PREFACE.

1512536

IN order that nothing in the power of the Compiler should be left undone towards acquiring for this undertaking the essential characters of accuracy and truth, and from the widely increased interest excited in the public mind of late upon Church statistics, it was deemed necessary, for the purposes of this edition of the Irish Church Directory, to afford every Clergyman the opportunity of furnishing a fresh Return of the particulars of his Benefice; and with that view a Form of Return was issued with the December number of the Irish Ecclesiastical Gazette.

The Form of Queries for the present edition was substantially the same as that upon which the Directory was constructed in 1862; so that it will be seen by a comparison with the edition of 1867, that changes and alterations in the constitution and value of the Benefices have not taken place to any great extent—in most cases it was found unnecessary to make any, and numerous letters were received to that effect—thus showing the accuracy of the information which had already appeared in the Directory.

The following example, exhibiting the modus operandi of arriving at a statement of the Gross and Net Value of Benefices, is here inserted (by permission). It consists only of that portion of the Return affecting revenue, and is not selected as an extreme case, but merely to help the uninitiated to a better understanding of the construction of the most material part of this work.

The Index to the Benefices has again undergone a thorough revision, advantage having been taken of the information contained in the new Returns, which were framed with a view of obtaining some necessary corrections for this department of the Directory. In the present edition all the parishes Appropriate,

PREFACE.

Improprate, Suspended, &c., are duly noted. Its arrangement and revising owing much to the valuable assistance again so kindly rendered by the Ven. the Archdeacon of Connor.

Thanks are also due to the heads of the various Public Departments, Colleges, &c. ; and more particularly to the Clergymen in each diocese, and to the Diocesan Registrars and other Officials, who so willingly undertook the revision of the proof sheets of the Tables of Benefices.

The grateful acknowledgments of the Compiler are especially tendered to the Clergy of Ireland for the very liberal and courteous response they have given to this call upon their valuable time and attention ; and for the confidence so frequently expressed in letters accompanying the Returns, to the effect, that the writers were satisfied that no use would be made of them, other than the requirements of truthful statistics of the Church in Ireland demanded at the hands of a friend desirous of the advancement of her interests. Indeed the Clergy have at all times manifested a very general desire to exhibit, for public purposes, a fair and candid account of Church property ; and with that view, have most kindly and ably seconded the labours of the Compiler in completing his Directory, since he has shown the value of the undertaking, and the practicability of its accomplishment.

THE CHURCH POPULATION.

Upon this subject letters have been received from Clergymen from all parts of Ireland, earnestly urging upon the Compiler's attention the necessity and advantages of shewing in the Irish Church Directory the present state of the Church Population, as compared with that given in the Census of 1861, which represents the relative proportion of Protestants to other denominations as only 11·9 per cent. of the total population, whereas it is believed by many to have been much greater. The following copy of a letter dated January 3, 1868, is a fair example of the sentiments expressed in all :—

DEAR SIR—If the Irish Church Directory be a book of reference, and the information contained in it be reliable, and authentic in some particulars, it ought to be so in all ; and, therefore, I would say that the Church population should, of all things, be prominently set forth in it ; more especially as I have every reason to believe that in many places it is erroneously given in the Government Census of 1861. [*]

For example, this Parish is, I think, set down in the Blue Book at about 100, whereas the members of the " Establishment " number nearly 250.

The Enumerators, as a rule, took no trouble, and we know the direction their inclination and bigotry would take.

I am, yours truly, H. W.

JAMES CHARLES, Esq.

This indeed is a startling example of excess in favour of Church Population, 150 per cent. ! and if there be many parishes so circumstanced, would call loudly for a fresh enumeration. The Benefice of Tassaragh shows an increase of nearly 25 per cent. In 1861 the Church people numbered but 68, they are now 90. Numerous other instances of increase of the Church Population might be adduced ; but on the other hand, owing to emigration and other causes, a diminution has taken place in some parishes situated in rural districts.

The value of a Return of the present number of Church people contained in each Benefice, and printed in parallel columns for the purpose of affording a comparison with the Returns of the Census of 1861, would be undoubted, and might lead to important results ; but to be of any practical utility it should be very fully communicated and well authenticated.

The task of collecting and arranging such a mass of statistics, and then altering a portion of the Directory for their reception, would be attended with very considerable trouble and expense—much more than would appear to a person unacquainted practically with work of this description. Yet the Compiler, anxious as far as possible to meet the wishes of the Clergy, will undertake to print in the next edition of the Directory, the present Church Population of the Benefices, if it be supplied to him properly authenticated with the signature of the respective Incumbents, and in sufficient quantity to warrant its publication.

It is manifest that, to be of much use, it will be necessary that Returns of the Church Population should be sent in by each of the 1,510 Benefices. This can in most cases be accomplished without much difficulty, and with a fair degree of accuracy; for since the taking of the last Census the Bishops and Clergy have exercised a more careful supervision than heretofore, and have instituted a strict inquiry into the numbers of the people committed to their spiritual charge.

It will be absolutely necessary, in order to afford a proper comparison in parallel columns, that the Parochial Church Population shall be computed according to the plan already adopted in the Index to Benefices in the Directory—noticing that the Population of the Perpetual Curacies is generally included in the Union to which they belong. Apart from this, it will be desirable that the Church Population of Perpetual Cures and District Cures shall be given separately also, and to be so stated in the Return. Let it be particularly noted, that for our present purpose we are required to deal only with the Church Population, and that it will not be necessary to take any notice, in this enumeration, of persons belonging to other denominations, or of the total population.

It is with much diffidence that the Compiler accedes to the request so often pressed upon him—to attempt a Parochial Census of the members of the Established Church in Ireland—and he is not too sanguine as to the result. But in this as in other matters, the humble desire to be of use in our day and generation prompts us to reach to things seemingly beyond our capabilities—encouraged by the hope, that by working on in the path of duty, steadily and perseveringly, we sometimes attain to their accomplishment. As is well observed by Mason in his Parochial Survey of Ireland—“However incomplete the immediate success, every person who wishes to serve his country in the useful though laborious field of statistical research, should act upon the sentiment conveyed in the motto . . . ‘Attamen audendum est, et veritas investiganda, quam si non omnino assequeremur, tamen propius ad eam, quam nunc sumus, tandem pervenimus.’”

ALIENATION OF CHURCH PROPERTY.

As an example of the necessity of watchfulness with regard to the diminution of Church Revenue, through the absorption of Glebe Land into adjoining Lay property, &c.—to which the Compiler ventured to call attention in the Preface to the First Edition of this work, in 1862 [see p. 10]—the following extract of a letter received from a Clergyman, dated January 8, 1868, affords convincing proof—

There were twenty-one Irish acres of Glebe here in the memory of some of the oldest of the Protestant parishioners, and over 400 Protestants in this part of the Union. A gentleman resident in the parish got hold of most of the Glebe, and through neglect of those who should see to this matter, and by the indifference, &c., of others, he actually made it his own, and it was sold for his debts.

The writer of the letter here referred to also alludes to the difficulties experienced by Incumbents who are appointed to Benefices situated in districts with which they are personally unacquainted, and where no record of the exact boundary of the parish or parishes of which the Benefice is composed has been kept. Such laxity, the Compiler is assured, is not uncommon in remote districts. Surely every Benefice should possess its map, accompanied by descriptive particulars of area, boundaries, &c., and a record of every kind of Church property appertaining to the Parish; a counterpart of which should be lodged with the Registrar of the Diocese, who should be provided with a place of safe keeping for the same. These documents to be periodically compared and amended when necessary under official supervision, and to be made easily accessible for purposes of reference. This course would obviate all uncertainty, and preserve to the Church much property that, in the existing state of things in some places, runs the risk of being alienated.

These remarks—which it is respectfully hoped will not be considered out of place—were forced upon the attention of the Compiler during the progress of his work. In almost every instance where it was found necessary to inquire the value of a living from an Incumbent recently appointed, the answer has generally been to the following effect—"I shall be happy to tell you when I am a year or two inducted, but at present I cannot satisfactorily ascertain the exact particulars of the Benefice." A case is known to the Compiler where, in a town parish, the Incumbent was some time in the enjoyment of his Benefice before he discovered that he, as Incumbent of the parish, was entitled to the rent of a house in a back street of the annual value of £30. This state of things could not have existed, if a record such as is above alluded to were properly kept in the Parochial Register.

Churchwardens, having a good knowledge of the circumstances of their parish, and who are anxious to discharge their duties by a careful scrutiny into its affairs, can also do much towards the preservation and recovery of Church Property. The present writer may humbly be permitted (for the encouragement of others) to mention a case in point, which enables him to speak with the authority that personal experience only can confer. A few years ago, when Churchwarden of his parish, he, in conjunction with his brother Churchwarden, recovered, through Memorial to the Corporation of Dublin, a fund for Church purposes which had rested in abeyance for four-and-twenty years. Its use is now secured to the parish, for the maintenance of the fabric of the Church—the purpose for which only it was originally intended. At the time of its recovery the fund had accumulated to about £800, £400 of which was at once expended upon the Church.* This instance is merely mentioned to show the practicability of the recovery of property nearly lost to the Church, and to stimulate to exertion some who may be disheartened by apparently insuperable difficulties.

Through the frequent changes in the ownership of property, especially by the operations of the Landed Estates Court, much Rent-charge (where payable in small sums) has been lost by neglecting to demand it, and to establish a claim to it at the proper time. This is unjust to future Incumbents. But there is sometimes a difficulty (which ought to be removed) in the recovery of small Rent-charges; in consequence of which, in many cases, it is really cheaper to make no effort than to take proceedings for recovery—thus causing considerable loss to successors whose income is payable by small holders. It is well to bear in mind the words of Chalmers, though applicable here in a sense less wide than that in which the learned Doctor used them—"I should hold it a false and ruinous step to alienate one fraction of the revenues of the Irish Church, convertible in the hands of faithful, and pious, and philanthropic men, into a mightier instrument for the moral and political good of the country than any other which the united wisdom of statesmen can possibly devise."

PREFACE TO THE FIRST EDITION.

HAVING been frequently urged to undertake the compiling of an IRISH CHURCH DIRECTORY—his position as proprietor of the Irish Ecclesiastical Gazette offering peculiar facilities for such a task—the Compiler yielded to the oft-repeated request, and the present book is the result of his labours. Few, unless those practically acquainted with work of this description, can form any idea of the arduous nature of such an undertaking, or of the great expense (amounting to several hundred pounds) of necessity incurred in its production. In this case neither trouble nor expense has been spared.

It has been said that such a publication as the present is much required, in order to refute the misstatements put forth by the enemies of the Church, and to correct the misconceptions that existed in the minds of persons not fully informed upon the subject, or who believe the falsehoods zealously circulated, where there has not been an easily accessible and trustworthy means of ascertaining the truth—especially with regard to the alleged wealth of the Established Church in this country. A Clergyman in the Diocese of Ossory writes thus:—“Many who think the Clergy overpaid, judge from the gross income of the parish, and know nothing of the deductions that are from it”—another, in the Diocese of Killala writes:—“It is wrong that the Church should get credit for having more than she has,” and with reference to this false representation of the income of the Church when uncontradicted, he adds, “and gives quite a handle to the enemy.”

In an Address issued by the Cork Diocesan Committee of the Additional Curates' Fund Society, the writer observes:—

* * * * I have been reasoning on the supposition that the statements sometimes made with regard to the wealth of the Irish Church are all true. I have assumed, for argument sake, that the revenues of the Church, if rightly distributed, are sufficient for the spiritual wants of the people. But is this true? The answer to this question will, of course, depend in a great degree on the income to be allotted to each Clergyman. Now, suppose all the Tithe Rent Charge, together with the value of all Glebes and Glebe Houses of Ireland were put in one common fund, how much would you think sufficient for each? Would you think that the Clergy were overpaid if each Rector received £300 per annum, and each Curate £100? or would you think £200 sufficient for the former, and £75 for the latter? Perhaps, many of you would think the last mentioned sum too small—but most of you will, I have no doubt, be surprised to hear, that they are greater than could be allowed out of the total revenues of the Beneficed Clergy—yet such is the case. If the Ecclesiastical incomes of the Beneficed Clergy were put into one common fund, and that each Curate in Ireland was paid £75 per annum, there would not remain £200 for each of the Rectors; and if each Curate received £100, there would not be left an average of more than £150, if so much for the Rectors. This is very different from the popular impression respecting the wealth of the Church, but it is not less true. A Roman Catholic Member* of Parliament, who is not very favourably disposed towards the Church of Ireland, proposed some time ago a plan for the division of Ecclesiastical revenues. According to this plan each of the different orders of the Clergy was to receive a certain fixed income, a considerable sum was to be set apart, as at present, for building and keeping up the fabric of Churches, and supplying requisites for public worship, &c., and the balance (which he calculated at a large amount) was to be applied to certain other purposes. The plan was eagerly caught at by all the adversaries of the Church, and they hoped that by means of it a heavy blow might be struck at what they are accustomed to call the "monster grievance of Ireland," i.e. the Church Establishment. But when the plan came to be investigated, it was found to have one fatal error, and what do you think that error was? Was it that he allowed too large incomes to the Clergy? or was it that the purposes to which he proposed to apply the balance were objectionable? No! It was neither of these. The error was simply this: the balance was on the wrong side. The revenues of the Church, after deducting the sum which he allowed for building and keeping up the fabric of churches, &c., was not sufficient to pay the Clergy the income which he proposed to give them. It is useless then to speak of providing additional Clergy by a re-distribution of Ecclesiastical property. * * * * *

* Sergeant Shee is probably here alluded to. His book entitled The Irish Church, its History and Statistics, was ably answered, and his calculations taken to pieces and shown to be futile, by the Ven. Edward A. Stopford, Archdeacon of Meath, in his work, entitled, The Income and Requirements of the Irish Church; being a Reply to Sergeant Shee on the Irish Church, its History and Statistics; and showing why Sergeant Shee avoided stating either, while professing to show a Surplus of Income above Requirements. At page 61 the Archdeacon says:—* * * * “In answer to Sergeant Shee, it is necessary to keep to the Report of the Ecclesiastical Revenue Commission; but I have shown that, throwing all this income [i. e., of the Established Church in Ireland] into a common fund, it would not near meet the costs of bishops and parochial clergy only, even on Sergeant Shee's own very moderate scale.”

Again, in the Irish Ecclesiastical Gazette, Nov., 1861, a correspondent, when writing upon Misrepresentations of the Revenues of the Irish Church, says—

SIR—Allow me to take the liberty of directing your attention to the enclosed extract from a late number of a Dublin Roman Catholic journal—according to which all poor Ireland's wrongs are traced to a single fruitful source—viz., 'the enormous wealth of the Established Church'—setting down as the sources from which her revenues are derived the following items:—£360,000 tithe rent-charge, glebe, and see lands, together with acres innumerable of land belonging to Trinity College and the Royal Schools. Now, with regard to the first of these sources of revenue coming direct into the pockets of the clergy, it is a well-known fact, that in the year 1854 Mr. Sergeant Shee laid before Parliament a bill for the re-adjustment of Church property in Ireland, stating that suitable provision being made for the payment of the dignitaries and other clergy of the Established Church, there would remain a surplus of about £160,000. which surplus he proposed to hand over to the Roman Catholics and Protestant dissenters. On examination, however, it was found that, so far from there being a surplus, as Mr. Shee calculated, the total revenue of the Established Church would not go within £14,000 of giving to our bishops and clergy such incomes as the learned Sergeant himself said they ought to have. In short, if the revenues were equally divided between the clergy, the amount falling to the share of each member of that body would be under £140 per annum—an income which, for its magnificence, may well excite the jealousy and discontent of the Irish Roman Catholics. So much, then, with regard to the enormous salaries of our clergy. But one word with respect to the other source of the revenue of the Establishment—viz., the Trinity College and Royal School lands. Can they be properly included among the sources from which the revenue of the Established Church is derived? I would say, certainly not. * * * * *

I have thus trespassed on you, because I believe that even among the laity of the Established Church false ideas are afloat as regards her fabulous wealth; and this they make a pretext for throwing on the shoulders of the clergy many burdens which they are but badly able to bear; and though it must be acknowledged that there might be a fairer division of her funds than at present exists, yet if such plain facts as these were generally known, they would do away with that cry which is so often raised against the clergy, 'great pay and little work;' and Ireland's calamities might be traced rather to the small and inadequate provision made for the spiritual wants of the people, than to the enormous wealth of those appointed to supply those wants.

Again claiming your indulgence for so far trespassing on you, I remain, Sir, your obedient servant,
Nov. 1861.

VERIDICUS.

[The following is the Extract above referred to.]

"DELEND A EST CARTHAGO."

These extracts serve to shew that such a work as the present was much needed, in order to exhibit the actual revenue of the Irish Church, in the net value of each benefice; and thus by laying before the world the naked truth concerning this PUBLIC PROPERTY, for ever set at rest all doubt and uncertainty as to its real amount; thereby, on this point, disarming the enemy.

Considering it his duty to meet the views of the Clergy in the compilation of a work intended for their use, but supposing that there must be diversity of opinions as to the matters of detail in the arrangement of such a volume as the present, among so large a body of men scattered over Ireland in spheres presenting, from local causes, much dissimilarity of ministerial and pastoral duty and experience, the Compiler did not depend upon his own unaided judgment, but consulted with Clergymen eminently qualified to give advice upon the subject, and at their suggestion framed the Queries upon the answers to which this Directory is founded, and which were forwarded to every Clergyman in Ireland. It will probably assist in the better understanding of the Tables of Benefices in this book, if these Queries are here annexed.

‡ In order to arrive at the Net Annual Value upon a uniform basis, deductions are only to be made for the following, if paid, viz. :—

Rent of Glebe, Quit Rent, County Cess, Poor Rates, Income Tax, Instalment on re-payment of Building Loan, Interest at five per cent. on amount recoverable from successor, Interest at 10 per cent. on amount not so recoverable. Insurance Premium on Glebe, allowance for Residence when no Glebe House, viz.—10 per cent. on Gross Value, Visitation Fee, Tax for Diocesan School, Ecclesiastical Commissioners' Tax, and CURATE'S SALARY.

Should any of the above liabilities be fluctuating an average to be taken for three years. Voluntary Payments, such as Subscriptions to Schools, &c., are not to be included in the deductions.

One thousand two hundred and eighty-one of these Returns were sent back filled up ; and besides these, a large amount of additional information was given by Clergymen who called personally at the office of the Irish Ecclesiastical Gazette during the progress of the work. The proof sheets of the Dioceses were then forwarded to several Clergymen in each, who kindly undertook to revise them, and, in most cases, to the Diocesan Registrars ; to whom, and to the numerous Clergymen who were kind enough to assist, as well as to those of whose friendly offers of assistance he was unable to avail himself, the Compiler here takes leave to return his most grateful thanks.

The Returns sent in by the Clergy have been invariably adhered to in compiling the Tables, and when no return was received, the Commissioners' Report on Ecclesiastical Revenue, Knox's Ecclesiastical Index, and other works, were consulted.

The information appended to this Directory has been selected from the most authentic sources, which have in each case been duly acknowledged.

It is obvious that without the cordial co-operation of the Clergy it will be difficult to perfect a work of this kind, the particulars of which must be collected from so many different sources. It is, therefore, most respectfully urged upon them to furnish as soon as possible the details required to make future editions more complete, and better worthy of their acceptance. Indeed the Compiler has been much encouraged by Clergymen of high standing and influence to persevere in his task, and publish the Directory annually, trusting that with each edition the book will go on increasing in information and usefulness; and with this view he has gone to the expense of keeping the type of the entire work standing; and it is hoped and confidently expected, that when its design and value are fully understood, all the Clergy will see that it is their interest to afford the necessary information; and also that those who are officially qualified will aid in rendering the work as complete as it can possibly be.

The Compiler is well aware that it would be next to impossible to publish a first issue of a work of this nature without some inaccuracies; and he knows that no table, however carefully constructed to suit its average demands, can be expected to meet the requirements of particular cases; and in order to meet these particular cases, it is proposed in future publications of this work to set apart a few pages for short explanatory notes, which it is hoped will have the effect of removing scruples entertained by some, when obliged to confine the statement of the particulars of their Benefices to the exact form of the tables—and will also afford more complete information.

For the perfecting of future editions, it would be of much importance that information should be supplied to the Compiler upon some particulars that could not be ascertained in due time for the present issue:—

1. Many persons in calculating the property of the Church, indiscriminately charge it with the Glebe Land in the Incumbent's possession, as an addition to his income, whereas in many cases a most exorbitant rent is paid. In some Parishes the rent of the Glebe is double the highest rent charged on any adjoining land. There are Incumbents in exclusively rural parishes who pay £5 per acre for Glebe Land. It is obviously unfair to charge such Glebe as an addition to the emoluments of the Incumbent.

2. During the lapse of time a very large quantity of Glebe Land has been abstracted from the property of the Church; and it is well known that in many cases original Glebe has been absorbed into adjoining lay property, and the Clergymen subsequently entering into possession of the parishes, have obtained and have made legally chargeable upon such Parishes, land—as Glebe Land—a high rent, payable to proprietors who have not any right whatever to this land. If the Incumbents of the several Parishes would institute an inquiry into the original extent of Glebe Land in their Parishes, evidence would be afforded of one branch of that systematic plunder of Church property that has been continued during a long course of years. It would also be interesting information, if those Incumbents who, by instituting such inquiries, have recovered Glebe Lands that had been so abstracted, would state the quantity of land, how long alienated, and when and how recovered.

The Bishop of Meath always takes precedence of the other Irish Bishops, as the Bishop of London does of the English, and is the only Bishop of the United Church styled Most Reverend. The Bishop of Kildare used to rank next.

In this diocese there is neither Chapter nor Cathedral. All the Beneficed Clergy of the diocese form a Synod, of which the Archdeacon is President; and any proceedings of the Synod touching the affairs of the diocese are authenticated by a common seal, which is in the custody of the Registrar.

The following observations are extracted from the Parliamentary "Returns relating to the Established Church (Ireland)," [Captain Stockpoole], and are dated "Diocese of Meath, 4th March, 1864," and signed "Edward A. Stopford, Acting Deputy Registrar":—

"There are in the Diocese of Meath 105 livings; these comprise 130 parishes, supposing Fercall to consist of six parishes. In one inappropriate parish [Loughan] the impropiator pays £30 per annum to a curate. There are fourteen other parishes wholly destitute of any provision for the cure of souls. * * * * * Residence is required in every benefice except [Killarvey], which is a rectory, with a Vicar endowed. As to churches, there are 108 churches in the diocese. Two benefices only are without churches—viz., [Athlumney] and [Kilbride]. The income of the former is £67 10s.; of the latter, £20. One benefice [Fercall] has four churches, and one [Rathgraffe] has two churches, not counting the churches of perpetual cures. One inappropriate parish [Loughan] has an iron church. There are 33 parishes which have no churches; two of these are the benefices above mentioned—[Athlumney], income £67 10s.; [Kilbride], income £20. Twenty-one of them are parishes in episcopal unions or supposed unions, and 13 are parishes [Teltown, Fennor, Brownstown, Follistown, Staffordstown, Odder, Dirpatrick, Monkstown, Monknewtown, Moyvore, Grangegeeth, Donore, Gare, and Killare], none of which has any income. Therefore it appears that of the 33 parishes in this return which have not churches, 21 have no income; one has an income of £2 10s.; four others have £20 or less; five have from £20 to £50; six have from £50 to £100; and one has £127. Of the parishes in the hands of the Ecclesiastical Commissioners which are to be added to this return, none has a church."

NOTE from the Parliamentary Returns relating to the Established Church (Ireland), 1864:—"There are 118 livings (including Perpetual Curacies, District Parochial Churches and Chapels, Inappropriate Curacies, &c.) in the Diocese of Down and Connor. There is but one parish in the diocese of Down and Connor in which residence of the incumbent is not required—viz., Arklow, of which the Bishop is himself the Rector; and a resident Curate resides in this parish, and performs the duties. The clergy, who are non-resident, are so under license, either from no fit residence being obtainable in the parish, or for temporary periods, on account of ill health."

Ecclesiastical Divisions, &c., &c.

Previously to the Church Temporalities Act, 3 & 4 Wm. IV., cap. 37, the country was divided for Ecclesiastical purposes into Four Archbishoprics, nearly identical with the Four Civil Provinces, but taking their names from the cities which were the seats of the Sees. By that Act the Archbishoprics of Cashel and Tuam were reduced to Bishoprics, and the whole of Ireland divided into Two Provinces, by a line drawn from the north of Dublin county to the south of Galway bay, and the Bishoprics were reduced to Ten.

The revenues of the suppressed bishoprics, together with those of suspended dignities and benefices, and appropriated tithes, were vested by the Church Temporalities Act in the Board of Ecclesiastical Commissioners, to be applied by them to the erection and repairs of churches, to the providing for the church expenses which had been defrayed by vestry rates, and to other ecclesiastical purposes. The revenues of the suppressed sees were in the undermentioned years, ending 31st July, as follows:—

The Sales already made of Perpetuities of church estates vested in the Ecclesiastical Commissioners have produced £663,494; the value of the whole perpetuities, if sold, is estimated at £1,200,000. The following are the amounts received from sales in each year ended 31st July, 1834, to 1866.

In 1866, under the provisions of the Church Temporalities Act, £2,101 was paid to Curates in the City of Dublin, in lieu of the maintenance heretofore provided by assessments; £12,976 to the Incumbents hitherto entitled to receive Ministers' Money under the Act of Charles II., charged on houses in Dublin and other towns in Ireland; £4,089 to Vicars-choral and Curates of suspended Benefices; £226 to Diocesan Schoolmasters; and £5,912 augmentation of small Benefices, exclusive of £5,244 for augmentation of poor Livings, under the bequests of Primate Boulter and Primate Robinson.

Tax on Bishoprics and Benefices.

The sum received under the head of tax, on bishoprics and benefices, amounted to £15,760 in 1866. This yearly tax is imposed by the Church Temporalities Act, on all benefices and dignities whose net annual value exceeds £300, graduated according to the following scale:—

Value of Benefice.		Charge per cent.	Value of Benefice.		Charge per cent.	Value of Benefice.		Charge per cent.
Exceeding	And not exceeding		Exceeding	And not exceeding		Exceeding	And not exceeding
£300	£305	£2 10 0	£345	£355	£3 15 0	£395	£405	£5 0 0

335	345	3 10 0	385	395	4 15 0	435	445	5 10 0

No fractional part of a Pound to be subject to this per-centage.

The rate of Charge increases by 2s. 6d. on every additional £10 above £405. All Benefices exceeding £1,195 are taxed at the rate of £15 per cent. The yearly tax imposed on all Bishoprics is graduated as follows: Where the yearly value shall not exceed £4,000, 5 per cent.; not exceeding £6,000, 7 per cent.; not exceeding £8,000, 10 per cent.; and not exceeding 10,000, 12 per cent., in addition to which the Archbishopric of Armagh now pays to the Ecclesiastical Commissioners an annual sum of £4,500; and the See of Derry, on its next avoidance is to pay £6,160.

Aggregate Amount of the Revenue of the Established Church, whether derived from Land, Rent-charge, or any other source.

[From Parliamentary Return, p. 114, ordered by the House of Commons to be printed, May 4, 1864.] The aggregate amount of the Gross Revenue of the Established Church in Ireland (including Bishoprics, Dignities and Livings), whether derived from lands, rent-charge, or any other source, is £586,428 8s. 10d. The Net Revenue, after deductions directed by law in estimating Ecclesiastical Tax payable to the Ecclesiastical Commissioners for Ireland, and after deducting said tax, is £448,943 15s. 10d., but there are further deductions to a considerable amount on livings under £300 a year, which are about 1,070 in number out of a total of 1,510, for Poor's Rates, County Cess, and Income Tax, the particulars of which deductions are officially unknown to the Ecclesiastical Commissioners, such livings not being liable to tax.

Extracts from "The Census of Ireland—1861."

Number and per centage of each Religious Profession.

[From the Census Commissioners' Report.]

The relative numbers of the principal religious bodies in Ireland may be stated thus:—There were members of the Established Church, 693,357, or 11·9 per cent. of the total population; of Roman Catholics, 4,505,265 or 77·7 per cent.; of Presbyterians, 523,291, or 9·0 per cent.; of Methodists, 45,399, or 0·8 per cent.; of Independents, 4,532; Baptists, 4,237, and Society of Friends or Quakers, 3,695, or 0·1 per cent., respectively; of persons tabulated under the head of "All other Persuasions," there were 18,728, or 0·3 per cent.; and there were 353 Jews;—making in all a population of 5,798,967.

Ulster contains the largest number of persons in communion with the Established Church, the members of which (391,315) are 20·4 per cent. of the population of that province. In Leinster, the Established Church has 180,587 adherents, or 12·39 per cent. of the population of the province; in Munster, the members of the Established Church are 80,860, or 5·3 of the population; and in Connaught, where the members of the Established Church are fewest, absolutely and relatively, there number is 40,595, or 4·44 of the population.

The members of the Roman Catholic Church form the majority of the inhabitants in each of the four provinces, in three of which, Leinster, Munster, and Connaught, their numbers greatly preponderate; while in the fourth, Ulster, the majority is slight. In the case of the Established Church, the absolute corresponds with the relative number of its adherents in each of the provinces. The Roman Catholics are differently circumstanced, as in Ulster, where there relative percentage is smallest, their absolute number exceeds the entire population of Connaught, where the percentage of Roman Catholics is highest. As regards the absolute number of Roman Catholics, the provinces stand in the following order:—Munster, 1,420,076; Leinster, 1,252,553; Ulster, 966,613; Connaught, 866,023. As regards the relative number of the Roman Catholic inhabitants, the provinces takes rank as follows:—Connaught, 94·8 per cent.; Munster, 93·8; Leinster, 85·9; and Ulster, 50·5.

The Commissioners, in 1834, classified as above the 1,387 benefices of the Established Church in Ireland according to the number of residents belonging to that Church in each benefice. The same classification by parishes is now adopted [in the Census Returns] not merely in respect of the Episcopalian Protestant residents, but of the three principal denominations separately, and of all others in bulk. As, however, the "parish" is far from being identical with the "benefice" (the latter sometimes including more than one, and occasionally only part of a parish), it is obvious that no accurate comparison could be instituted between the statistics of the benefices in 1834 and those of the parishes in 1861, even had the boundaries of parishes themselves undergone no alteration in the interval, which is not the case. In illustration of the difference between the area of the benefice and of the parish, it may be stated, that whereas in the year 1834 the number of the benefices was only 1,387, the number of parishes was 2,395, not differing materially from the number of parishes in 1861—2,428. Nor, even were we to travel out of the Census returns, would we be afforded the means of making a comparison between the population of benefices in the years 1834 and 1861, inasmuch as the composition and extent of the benefices have undergone much greater changes, under various enabling Acts, than have the boundaries of parishes.

While, therefore, it has been thought right to give the Table of Benefices [in the Census Returns] extracted from the Report of the Commissioners of 1834, as containing facts proper to be borne in mind, although not available for purposes of close or reliable comparison, Table IX., below, has been framed, according to parishes, not less for the purpose of communicating the facts which it embodies, than for the advantage of future comparison. It shows the parishes of Ireland, classified according to the members of the Established Church, Roman Catholics, Presbyterians, and other Protestant Dissenters, resident in each, in the years 1834 and 1861, respectively.

Although there were 33 more parishes in 1861 than had been in 1834, the increase is too trifling to affect materially the comparison afforded by Table IX., between the distribution of the several religions at these two periods. The increase is due chiefly to the formation of new parishes out of townlands detached from parishes previously existing, or to the division of ancient parishes, as already stated in our Report on Ages and Education. In the one case it may have lessened the number of parishes having fewest members of the Established Church; and in the other, reduced the number of more populous parishes by these divisions; but in either case the alteration in the size and grouping of the parishes, spread over the entire number, must be inconsiderable.

* This total includes the 403 persons before referred to. † This total includes 3,132 persons (seamen and others), "religion un-pecified;" but Jews are not included.

In comparing the Census of 1834 and that of 1861, it should be borne in mind that in 1834 the Methodists were classed under the head of "Established Church;" in 1861 they were classed under a separate head.

Comparative Number of each Religious Profession in the years 1834 and 1861.

By this we perceive that in twenty-seven years the Roman Catholic population has fallen off by as many as 1,930,795, or 30 per cent. and the Protestant by 224,731, or 14.8 per cent.

* Including 313 Jews.

The proportion of Protestants to the population in 1834 was 19.1 in every 100 persons, and in 1861 it was 22.3; whilst the Roman Catholics formed 80.9 per cent. of the population in 1834; and 77.7 in 1861.

The proportion per cent. of the members of the Established Church to the general population has risen since 1834 in twenty-one out of the thirty-two dioceses, has remained stationary in two, and fallen in nine. The increase in the per-centage of Established Church Protestants was largest in the diocese of Dromore, where the increase amounted to 3.6, the diocese of Down followed with 2.8, that of Kildare with 2.4, and that of Connor with 2.3; in none of the remaining seventeen did it amount to 2.0. The dioceses in which the proportion of members of the Established Church remained stationary are Clonfert with 3.9, and Killala with 5.4 per cent. Out of the nine dioceses in which the proportion has fallen, the greatest decline (4.0) was exhibited by the diocese of Waterford. In those of Raphoe and Ferns the decline was 3.1 and 3.0 respectively; in that of Dublin, 1.8; in Achonry, 1.6; in Clogher, 1.3; and in Kilmore and Leighlin it was under 1.

There are 1510 Church Livings in Ireland, according to the Official Parliamentary Return given by the Ecclesiastical Commissioners, and ordered by the House of Commons to be printed May 4, 1864.

* The Bishop of Capetown, Metropolitan, pronounced sentence of deposition upon him, Dec. 16, 1863. He appealed to the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council, who pronounced the sentence "null and void in law," March 20, 1865.

† In its government and doctrine the Church in the United States of America resembles the United Churches of England and Ireland, as closely as the different constitutions and circumstances of the countries admit of. The Thirty-nine Articles, the Book of Common Prayer, and the form of celebrating divine service, have all been adopted, with only such changes as the difference between monarchical and republican forms of government rendered necessary. The first bishops of America (Drs. White and Provoost) were consecrated in London, in the year 1787, by the Archbishops of Canterbury and York, and the Bishops of Eath and Wells, and Peterborough.

The general government and administration of affairs is vested in a council, consisting of the President, the Vice-President, and four Deans of the Faculty. The President, and in his absence, the Vice-President, to be Chairman, and to have a second or casting vote. The duties of the council are, to make regulations in cases not provided for by the statutes; to arrange the courses of instruction; to preserve discipline; to receive all fees and other sources of income; and to regulate the Library and Museum. Every regulation to be sanctioned by the signature of the President or Vice-President. The other officers are, a Registrar, Bursar, Librarian, and Curator of the Museum. The supreme authority is vested in a Board of Visitors, appointed by the Crown, which is to hold ordinary visitations every third year, during the College Session, and extraordinary visitations, on giving three weeks' notice to the President.

The College Session is divided into three sections: 1—from the commencement of the session in October to the Christmas recess; 2—from the Christmas to the Easter recess; 3—from the Easter recess to the close of the session in the middle of June. The Colleges were opened for the admission of Students in October, 1849.

The following is the curriculum prescribed by the Queen's University for the Queen's Colleges:—

First Year.—Greek, Latin, Mathematics, a Foreign Modern Language, and English Language.

Second Year.—Logic, Chemistry, Natural History (including Botany), the Higher Mathematics, or Greek & Latin.

Third Year.—Natural Philosophy, History, English Literature, Physical Geography, Metaphysics, or Jurisprudence and Political Economy.

Queen's University.—By Letters Patent, dated 15th August, 1850, the Queen has founded an University to be called "The Queen's University in Ireland," with powers to grant degrees in the faculties of Arts, Medicine, and Law, as such are granted by other universities, to Students who have completed their studies in any one of the Queen's Colleges of Belfast, Cork, or Galway. The University consists of a Chancellor and Senate, nominated by the Crown, and to hold office during pleasure (the Earl of Clarendon, then Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, was appointed the first Chancellor); to be a Corporation with perpetual succession, with power to sue and be sued, to make by-laws, to use a common seal, and to hold lands, the annual profits of which may amount to not more than £10,000. One or more visitors to be occasionally appointed by the Crown. The Senate meets at Dublin Castle, for holding examinations and granting degrees pursuant to such examinations; the examiners are appointed annually by the Senate. Power granted to the Senate of admitting, by special grace, graduates of other universities to similar degrees in the Queen's University, and to receive as evidence of medical education certificates of attendance upon the lectures or hospital practice of such other schools of medicine as shall afford full evidence of competency: provided Students tendering such certificates, shall have attended in some one of the Queen's Colleges at least one-third of the medical lectures prescribed in the course for the degree of Doctor of Medicine. Power granted to the Senate with the approbation of the Lords of the Treasury, to form a scale of fees for degrees, which are to be a fund for the University expenses and for endowing Scholarships, Exhibitions, and Prizes. The three Queen's Colleges to be Colleges of the University, and their professors to be professors of the same; but the Colleges not to be under the jurisdiction of the Senate, farther than as regards the regulations for degrees in the faculties above-mentioned. The Senate of the University held its first meeting on the 19th of June, 1851, when the warrant of the Lord Lieutenant of Ireland appointing her Majesty's Castle of Dublin as the place in which the University shall have its seat and hold its meetings was read; and the regulations which had been prepared by the Presidents and Vice-Presidents of the Queen's Colleges of Belfast, Cork, and Galway, for the course of study, to be pursued by Students therein, to qualify them for University Degrees, were submitted to the Senate, pursuant to the provisions of the Charter. On the 12th of August, a Seal for the University was approved of; and a code of By-laws and Regulations adopted by the Senate; and, on the 30th of that month, this code was sanctioned by the Lord Lieutenant, as required by the Charter. Fee to be paid on Degrees and Diplomas have been at different times fixed by the Senate, and approved of by the Lord's Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, as required by the Charter. The Senate has agreed to recognise the Lectures of Professors in Universities and Chartered Institutions, a part of the qualification of Medical Education, required for the Degree of M.D.

Form of Ceremonial of Consecration of a Church.

The Archbishop, attended by his Chaplains, will be received at the West door, or at some other entrance to the Church or Churchyard, by the Minister and Clergy properly habited, the Churchwardens, and others. At the place where the Archbishop is received, a Petition, signed by the Incumbent and Churchwardens, Patron, Trustees, or others, as the case may require, is to be delivered to him by the Minister, or some one of the persons who receive him, praying that he will consecrate the Church [and the Burial-Ground thereto belonging.]

The Archbishop receives the Petition, and orders the same to be read.

The Petition having been read, the Archbishop signifies his consent to consecrate the Church [and the Burial-Ground] according to the prayer therein contained.

Then follows the Ceremony of Consecration and Dedication, after the following form.

The Archbishop and the Clergy, and others attending upon him, proceed up the Nave towards the Communion Table, repeating the 24th Psalm alternately as they go, the Archbishop beginning thus:—Ps. xxiv., "The earth is the Lord's," &c.

The Archbishop and his Chaplains go up to the Communion Table; the Minister officiating to the Reading Desk.

The Archbishop, sitting in his chair, is to have the Instrument or Instruments of Conveyance, Donation, or Endowment (if any) presented to him by the Founder, or some proper substitute, which he lays upon the Communion Table; and then, standing up, and turning to the Congregation, he says:—"Dearly beloved in the Lord," &c.

Then all kneeling down, the Archbishop says the following prayer:—"O Eternal God, mighty in power," &c. Then the Archbishop stands up, and turning his face toward the Congregation, who continue kneeling, says the following prayers:—"Regard, O Lord, the supplications of thy servants," &c.

After this, the Service for the day begins, at the Psalm Venite Exultemus Domino, and is the usual Morning Prayer, except where it is otherwise directed. Proper Psalms, lxxiv., cxlii., cxxxii. First Lesson, Genesis xxviii. 10—17 inclusive; or 1 Kings viii. 22—61 inclusive; or 2 Chron. v. 11—14 inclusive. Second Lesson, Heb. x. 10—25 inclusive.

After the Collect for the day, the Archbishop prays as here followeth:—"O most blessed Saviour, who, by Thy gracious presence at the Feast of Dedication," &c.

Then the Minister says the prayers following the Collect for the day, as is appointed in the Morning Service; before the prayer of St. Chrysostom, the Archbishop says the following prayer:—"Blessed be Thy name, O Lord, that it hath pleased Thee to put it into the hearts of Thy servants to erect this house," &c.

Then the Minister says the Prayer of St. Chrysostom, and the Grace. The Hymn Veni Creator Spiritus is then sung.

COMMUNION SERVICE.—The Archbishop, standing at the North side of the Communion Table, says the Communion Service. After the Collect for the Queen, the Archbishop says the following prayer:—"O most glorious Lord God, we acknowledge that we are not worthy to offer unto Thee anything belonging to us," &c.

Then follows the Epistle, Eph. ii. 13; or 2 Cor. vi. 14—17, and the Gospel John ii. 13—15.

Then shall be sung or said the Nicene Creed, after which a Psalm may be sung.

THE SERMON.—The Sermon being ended, the Offertory is read (all remaining still in their places), during which the Deacons, Churchwardens, or other fit persons appointed by the Archbishop for that purpose, shall receive the offerings of the people, and reverently bring them to the Archbishop, who shall humbly present and place them upon the holy table. Then shall the Archbishop place upon the table so much bread and wine as he shall think sufficient for the Communion. Then shall the Archbishop say the prayer for the Church militant, and after it the two following prayers:—"Blessed be Thy name, O Lord God," &c., and "O God, the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ," &c.

Then, the Archbishop sitting in his chair, the Sentence of Consecration is to be read by the Chancellor, and signed by the Archbishop, and by him ordered to be enrolled, and preserved amongst the Muniments in the Registry. Then shall there be a pause, during which any, who will, may withdraw; after which the service of the Holy Communion proceeds as usually appointed.

Directions issued by the Ecclesiastical Commissioners, for the guidance of Incumbents or Officiating Clergymen.

All Communications addressed to the Ecclesiastical Commissioners should be PREPAID. It is hoped that this Regulation will in all instances be strictly complied with, as it is the evident interest of all parties to economize the Fund created for Ecclesiastical purposes. The expense of Postage so incurred, will be remitted with the Yearly payment, if the amount be entered in the estimate.

All applications for requisities for Divine Service, &c., Registry Books excepted, must be included in the Estimate, and, pursuant to an Order of a special meeting of the Board, the Commissioners will not provide any item which is not so applied for; neither will they entertain a "Supplemental Estimate."

The Estimate will be considered in due course, and the Incumbent is therefore requested not to enter into any engagement, or to incur any expense for any item, not being a regular annual charge, without the express previous sanction of the Commissioners. Incumbents may, however, without waiting for the Board's sanction, expend to the amount of £5 in repair of Slates, Leakage in Lead or Gutters, Broken Glass, or other accidental injuries, but in such case application should be forthwith made to the Secretary for a Form for Extraordinary Repairs. In no other case do the Commissioners hold themselves responsible for any expenditure on Churches which did not previously receive their sanction.

In consequence of the frequent Robberies of Surplices, Communion Linen, Plate, Table Covers, Pulpit Cushions, Books, Branches and Sockets for Candles, it is requested that these and other portable articles supplied by the Commissioners, may, after Service, be removed from the Church to some place of Security, if possible to the Glebe-house. In case of loss arising from the neglect of this regulation a suitable deduction will be made from the Sexton's salary.

The attention of the Commissioners having been called to the great injury which Stoves and their Flues sustain from want of proper care, it is requested that the Clergy will cause their Sextons to clean the outside of the Stoves and Flues with a preparation of Black Lead, aid on with a brush, and carefully polished, for which 2s. 6d. per annum will be allowed in addition to the Sexton's salary. Attention having been also called to the risk from fire to which Churches are exposed by reason of Chimneys or Stove Flues being left uncleared, the Commissioners request that the Clergy will, before the first of May in each year, cause the Chimneys and Flues to be properly swept and cleaned, for which a suitable sum will be allowed if entered in the yearly Estimate. Where there are horizontal flues, or where flues do not draw well, the cleaning should be effected twice in the year. Fires are to be lighted on Sundays, and on one other day in each week, and are to be kept up for 5 hours on each of those days, from the 1st November, to the 25th of March.

It is particularly requested that Ladders which have been provided for Churches by the Commissioners shall on no account be lent, or used for any other than Church purposes.

Under the present regulations of the Board no grant can be made either for Matting, Carpeting, or Window Blinds.

Law of Pews in Parish Churches.

The common law regards Pews as being the common property of the parishioners, in which all the Parishioners have a legal right to be accommodated (Stephens' Laws of the Clergy.) A right of property in Pews exists in a very few cases, as where parties have had a Faculty to build an addition to a Church, with a pew for themselves, or where prescription implies such a Faculty, granted at some remote period. To establish such a right, it is necessary to shew that the owner has always repaired (2 Rolle Abr. 223, G. 4.)

With this exception, existing right to Pews in a Parish Church, is not a right of property in them, but only a right of sitting in them; and this does not imply a right of excluding others from unoccupied sittings in a pew.

A right of sitting can only be acquired in two ways:

1. It is the duty of the Churchwardens to seat the parishioners—having regard to the rank in society of each, and the number of persons in each family. If any parishioner feels aggrieved by their arrangement, he has an appeal to the Bishop, whose decision is final. The Churchwardens' appointment, however, holds good until revoked by same or subsequent Churchwardens, or set aside by the Bishop.

2. By a Faculty from the Bishop's Court.

An appointment by Churchwardens, or a Faculty from the Bishop, to sit in a seat, is in force only during residence in the Parish.

The Minister has no legal power whatsoever of disposing of, or allocating Pews.

Pews cannot be legally transferred from one party to another by sale, nor be bequeathed by Will.

The following opinion was obtained from Dr. ROBERT PHILLIMORE, on a case submitted to him by the Churchwardens of East Retford, Diocese of Lincoln, relative to the supposed rights of parties to Pews in the Parish Church:

(COPY)—OPINION.

"Rights to Pews in the accompanying documents are claimed on these grounds:—

"1st—Faculty. 2nd—Prescription. 3rd—Purchase.

"To deal with the last, first; purchase conveys no title at all. No point of law is more clearly established than, that the sale of seats in a parish church, unless under the provisions of a specific Act of Parliament, is absolutely illegal and null.

"As to title by Prescription.—A Pew may be prescribed for, as appurtenant to a messuage, but not to the inhabitant of a messuage: therefore the claims of one person to seats appurtenant to several messuages, cannot be sustained. The seat, if appurtenant to all, belongs to the inhabitant of the messuage.

"A title by Prescription implies a Faculty, granted and lost. Therefore there must be proof of repairing—time out of mind—that is, beyond memory: eighty years have been held insufficient to exclude the authority of the ordinary. It is, moreover, fatal to such a claim, that the Parish, or other persons, should have repaired the seat within memory. A prescriptive right requires the clearest proof by immemorial occupation and repair.

"As to the title by Faculty.—A Faculty is a legal title to a seat, if properly granted. It has, however, often happened, that on examination the Faculty turned out to be bad; i.e., to be granted to a man and his heirs. The correct form of faculty is to a man and his family, so long as they continue members of a particular dwelling-house in the parish.

"Parties claiming under these various titles must be prepared to substantiate them by legal proof, within a reasonable time, and if such proof cannot be produced, verbal assertion is to be disregarded; and it must be remembered, that parties claiming exemptions from the general law, the presumption of law is therefore against them—Doctors' Commons, Nov. 25, 1553.

"Signed, ROBERT PHILLIMORE."

IV. RETIREMENT.

Chaplains are to be allowed to retire after fifteen years from the date of their first appointment, with the Half-pay which they may have earned by service if they have not declined to serve.

Any Naval Chaplains now on the List who may prefer to remain on their present rates of Full-pay, and under the previously existing Regulations with regard to Half-pay and Retirement, are to be allowed so to remain, on signifying such desire to the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty.

To all Commanders-in-Chief, &c.

By Command of their Lordships, C. PAGET.

Regulations as to Army Chaplains.

1. Chaplains to the Forces, and Assistant Chaplains, are equally at the disposal of the Secretary of State for War; and will therefore be prepared to proceed, at a moment's notice, to any Station at home or abroad where their services are required.
2. Chaplains to the Forces shall take precedence of one another according to the dates of their Commissions.
3. Assistant Chaplains shall give place to all Commissioned Chaplains; and take precedence of one another according to the dates of their appointments.
4. Chaplains and Assistant Chaplains shall transmit to the Chaplain General, Quarterly Reports of their respective charges in the manner set forth by the annexed form.
5. When two or more Chaplains or Assistant Chaplains are employed at the same station, the junior Chaplains shall make their Reports through the Senior, who will send them on to the Officer Commanding, by whom, again, they will be forwarded to the Secretary of State, marked "Chaplain-General's Department" in the corner of the envelope, with such remarks on each as he may consider it necessary to make.
6. These Regulations apply equally to Chaplains of the Church of England, and to Presbyterian Chaplains: but Roman Catholic Priests will send their Reports direct to the Officer Commanding, by whom they will be transmitted to the Secretary of State for War, under cover, having the words "Roman Catholic Clergy" written at the corner.
7. Chaplains of all denominations, whether Commissioned or otherwise, are to observe, that the Regimental and Garrison Day Schools are no longer entrusted to their management. But it is expected that they will be zealous in the promotion and management of Sunday Schools, wherein they may instruct the children of their respective congregations in the doctrines and duties of religion, and in principles of sound morality, loyalty and obedience.

3. In cases of distinguished services Chaplains may be promoted from one Class to that next above it without reference to length of service; but in such cases, with a view to ensure the responsibility attaching to an appointment made out of the regular course of promotion, the recommendation in which the services of the officer are detailed, shall be published in the general orders of the Army, and in the Gazette in which the promotion appeared.

4. It is Our further Will and Pleasure that Chaplains not serving, and now in receipt of higher rates of Pay than those which are provided in the above scale, shall continue to receive such higher rates until, by service they shall be entitled to a higher rate of pay than that which they are now receiving.

6. The Pensions to Widows of Chaplains shall be at the rates granted to the Widows of Officers of corresponding rank.

VICTORIA R.

[Circular, No. 730.]

WHEREAS we have judged it expedient to revise that part of Our Royal Warrant of the 16th day of May, 1861, which prescribes the rule under which the promotion of Chaplains of Our Army shall be regulated: Our Will and Pleasure is, that instead of Clause 3 of the before-mentioned Warrant, which is hereby cancelled, the following shall be adopted :—

3. In cases of distinguished services Chaplains may be promoted from any Class to that next above it, without reference to length of service; but in such cases, with a view to insure the responsibility attaching to an appointment made out of the regular course of promotion, the recommendation in which the Services of the Officer are detailed, shall be published in the General Orders of the Army, and in the Gazette in which the promotion appears. But neither in such cases, nor even on account of length of service, shall any Chaplain be promoted, unless his promotion be specially submitted for Our approval by Our Secretary of State for War.

FOREIGN LETTERS are forwarded by every post.

British and Foreign Letters posted at the Post Office, Kingstown, up to 6 30, a.m., and 7, p.m., are in time for the Packets sailing thence at 7, a.m., and 7 30, p.m.

AN INLAND LETTERS AND PACKETS, including those from the Channel Islands and the Isle of Man, must be prepaid in stamps, at the following rate of postage:—Not exceeding half an ounce in weight, 1d.; not exceeding one ounce, 2d.; not exceeding one and a half ounce, 3d.; not exceeding two ounces, 4d.; and so on, a 1d. being added for every half ounce or fraction of a half ounce.

As a general rule, the postage, if not paid in advance, is double the foregoing; and if the payment in advance be insufficient, double the deficiency is charged. An inland letter, for example, weighing more than half an ounce, and not exceeding one ounce, if bearing a penny stamp only, is, on delivery, charged twopence. The unpaid additional postage on re-directed letters, however, is not doubled, being the same as if such postage were prepaid. Unless three-quarters, at least, of the postage of a letter weighing more than 4 ozs. be prepaid, the letter is not forwarded, but notice of its detention is given to the sender, or failing him, to the person to whom it is addressed. No inland letter or packet must exceed 24 inches any way.

Addresses to Her Majesty pass free, and petitions to Parliament, if under 32 ozs., in covers open at the ends.

FOREIGN AND COLONIAL LETTERS are now charged by weight in this country, as well as abroad. The British scale of progression is:—Not exceeding $\frac{1}{2}$ oz., one rate; not exceeding 1 oz., two rates; and two rates for every succeeding ounce. The French and Belgian scale of progression is:—Under $\frac{1}{2}$ oz., one rate; weighing $\frac{1}{2}$ oz., under $\frac{1}{2}$ oz., two rates; and one rate for every succeeding $\frac{1}{2}$ oz.

According to the regulations of the German Customs Union, no letter exceeding 50 grammes (a little more than $\frac{1}{2}$ oz.) in weight, and containing any other enclosure than paper, can be allowed to circulate by the post. Any letters, therefore, forwarded in the mail to Prussia, above that weight, and containing any other enclosure than paper, will be liable, on their arrival at the Prussian frontier, to be stopped, and sent to the Custom House for delivery as freight.

ALL SHIP LETTERS must be prepaid. The uniform rate on letters between the United Kingdom and places beyond sea (except those for France, Belgium, Holland, Hamburg, &c., to which places the rates are the same as by packet), when conveyed by private ships, is as follows, in whatever part of the United Kingdom the letters may be posted or delivered:—Not above $\frac{1}{2}$ oz., 8d.; above $\frac{1}{2}$ oz. and not above 1 oz., 1s. 4d.; above 1 oz. and not above 2 ozs., 2s. 8d.; above 2 ozs. and not above 3 ozs., 4s.; above 3 ozs. and not above 4 ozs., 5s. 4d.; above 4 ozs. and not above 5 ozs., 6s. 8d.

SOLDIERS' or SEAMEN'S LETTERS are liable to a postage of 1d. when prepaid and not exceeding $\frac{1}{2}$ oz.; when sent by private ship, the gratuity of 2d. in addition must be paid. Letters to or from soldiers or seamen, from abroad, when not prepaid, are charged 2d. Soldiers' or seamen's letters are liable to Foreign rates in addition, if sent to or through a foreign country, but to no further charge upon re-direction. Letters from soldiers or seamen, when addressed to the United States, are liable to the United States' rate of 2½d., in addition to the usual reduced rate; to and from the South Pacific, 6d.; and to and from British Columbia, 5d.; the whole of which must be paid in advance when posted in this country.

BOOK POST.—A Book, unstamped Newspaper (or stamped Newspaper more than fifteen days' old), or any number of Books or Printed Letters from one Post Town to another, within the United Kingdom, in a cover open at the ends, and not exceeding two feet in length, not exceeding 4 oz., 1d.; not exceeding 8 oz., 2d.; not exceeding 16 oz., 4d.; and for every additional 8 oz. or fraction thereof, 2d. Book-packets may contain either written or printed matter, pens, pencils, maps, rollers, markers, &c.; but no written letter is allowed in any case.

POSTAGE RATES—MONEY ORDERS, &c.

Colonial Book Post—At the following rates, and on the same conditions as the foregoing (except that no packet weighing more than 3 lbs. can be sent to the East Indies or to New South Wales, and that no book-packet can be sent to any other part of the Cape Colony than Cape Town), book-packets can be forwarded:—To India, Ceylon, New South Wales, Victoria, Tasmania, South Australia, Western Australia, New Zealand, Mauritius, and Hong Kong, the rate is as follows:—Via Southampton: weighing not more than 4 ozs., 4d.; weighing more than 4 ozs., but not exceeding 8 ozs., 8d.; weighing more than 8 ozs., but not exceeding 1 lb., 1s. 4d.; weighing more than 1 lb., but not exceeding 1½ lb., 2s.; weighing more than 1½ lb., but not exceeding 2 lbs., 2s. 8d. Newspapers for persons who have removed may be redirected to them at any place within the United Kingdom without extra postage, provided they have not been opened at the place to which they were originally addressed. Newspapers by private ships, if put into the Office within fifteen days after the date of publication, are forwarded to the several British Colonies, and foreign countries, on payment of one penny stamp on each paper.

STAMPS (British) may be used to pay the postage on Foreign, Colonial, and Ship Letters, and Newspapers and Parliamentary proceedings, outwards, but not inwards. In using stamps, care must be taken especially for foreign letters, that the addition of the stamps does not increase the weight intended to be paid for, as foreign and colonial letters, in such cases, are liable to be detained for postage (where the prepayment is compulsory), or sent forward, either unpaid or charged with the deficiency. Inland letters insufficiently stamped are charged double the deficiency.

REGISTRATION.—Inland, foreign, colonial, and ship letters, Book-packets, Newspapers, &c., may be registered upon payment of a fee of 4d. over and above the postage.

Registered letters for France, and countries through France (except Portugal and the Ionian Islands, which cannot be registered), Prussia, and countries through Prussia, must have the foreign registration fee and postage paid in addition to the British. The fee, both British and foreign, upon registered letters for France, and countries through France, is double the prepaid rate—except Spain, which is 6d., and to the Austrian dominions, the fee to which is 1ld.; and the fee on letters for Russia (via Belgium) is double the foreign rate (the Russian rate being 3½d. per ½ oz.); and the Prussian is 3d. for a letter of any weight. Registered letters must be posted half an hour previous to the ordinary letters.

BANKRUPTS' LETTERS may be withheld by order of any Commissioner of Bankruptcy, and delivered to the Official Assignee, for a period of three months.

REDIRECTED LETTERS (except those directed from one part of a post-town to another) are liable to new rates of postage. Officers letters, however, which have been charged or have paid one foreign or colonial rate, are exempt.

Stamped NEWSPAPERS from one Post Town to another within the United Kingdom, free, provided that they are folded with the stamp outside, and posted within fifteen days of publication. Newspapers to the Colonies, whether stamped or unstamped, 1d., via any Foreign country, 2d. No marks or writing other than the address are permitted, or anything enclosed which would subject them to letter postage.

Money Orders.

Orders from any Post-office empowered to issue Money Orders on any other in the United Kingdom, and on Post-offices in Canada, Gibraltar, and Malta, are issued at the following rates:—

	United Kingdom.	Canada.	Malta or Gibraltar.
	s. d.	s. d.	s. d.
Not exceeding £2	0 3	1 0	0 9
Above £2, and not exceeding £5	0 6	2 0	1 6
Above £5, and not exceeding £7	0 9	3 0	2 3
Above £7, and not exceeding £10	1 0	4 0	3 0

Payment of an order must be obtained before the end of the second month, exclusive of the month the order was issued in, or a fresh commission must be paid. Under any circumstances an order will not be paid after twelve clear months.

Points to be observed when making a Will.

A will or codicil to a will must be signed at the foot or end by the testator. The signature must be made in the presence of two or more witnesses present at the same time, who shall attest or subscribe the will or codicil in the presence of the testator.

A will should be proved within six months after the death of the testator. If a will is not proved within twelve months after the death of the testator, the executors are liable to a heavy penalty.

A verbal death-bed gift of property is of no avail.

A deed or gift, to be legal, should be properly stamped. It should be prepared by a solicitor, as the law on the point is very precise.

Legatees under a will should not be witnesses to its execution, as the legacy is thereby rendered void.

If a man dies without making a will and leaves a widow but no children, one half of the personal property goes to the widow, the other half to the next of kin.

† Doubtful if entitled to any hood; the one described is, however, worn.

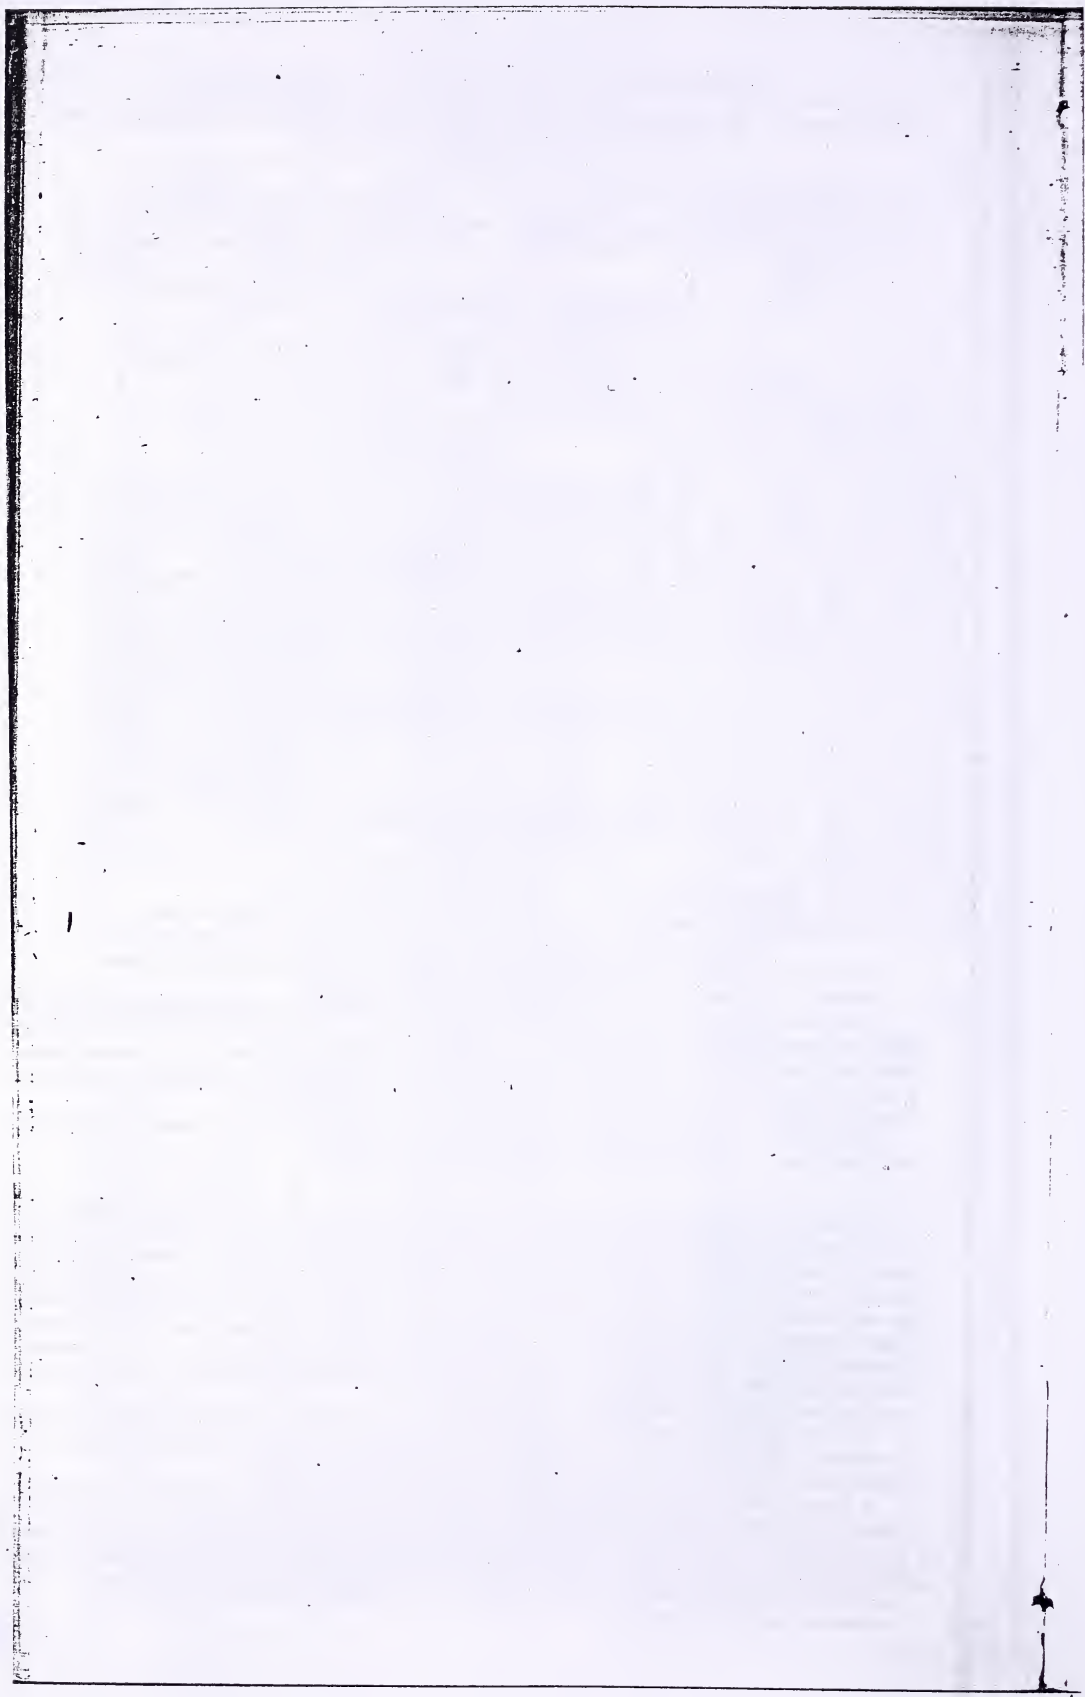

‡ For the first five years from incepting Masters of Arts in Cambridge are termed Regents, and wear the black silk hood lined with white silk; after the completion of five years their non-regency begins, and their hoods lose the white and assume the black lining. The Proctors, however, and some other university officers, are called Necessary Regents, and always wear white hoods. This distinction is confined to the University of Cambridge, and is not observed at Oxford, as far as a distinctive hood being worn.

§ The B.A. hood of Oxford is of black stuff properly, not silk, and should be lined, not with white fur, but with lamb's wool. The white fur has been adopted solely for appearance.

NOTE.—“The Cowl or Hood was originally a covering for the head, to protect it from the inclemency of the weather and was worn by all classes without distinction. Its ready adaptation to concealing the features led to its adoption at a very early age by monks and ascetics. As these multiplied and formed themselves into various distinct orders, their Hoods assumed a different fashion in cut, colour, and material. From the monks it passed to the cathedral and collegiate churches, and from them to the Universities; so that at the present time it is a mere badge of distinction, serving to point out the academical degree of the wearer, and forms rather a vesture of ornament than of use: out of the Universities the Hood has become almost exclusively an ecclesiastical ornament. It is required by the 58th Canon to be worn by all ministers when reading the public prayers, also when preaching, by rubric of Edward's first Liturgy, [still in force].

“The use of the Hood is enjoined on members of cathedral establishments in their ministrations by a rubric of the same Liturgy of Edward VI., as well as by the 25th Canon; and its adoption by members of the Universities is enforced by the 17th Canon.”—Pinnock's Clerical Papers, p. 969.

“The Hood was originally a cape attached to the back part of the collar of lay as well as ecclesiastical garments, and might be drawn over the head if necessary. It was lined with furs, silks, and stuffs, of various kinds, as may be seen in the robes of different orders of Graduates in our universities. Du Cange thinks that a part of these hoods, which originally fitted on the head, was afterwards detached, and finally became the square cap which is now generally worn by students and some other members of the Universities.”—Rev. W. Bates' Lectures on Christian Antiquities.

SOCIETY FOR THE PROPAGATION OF THE GOSPEL IN FOREIGN PARTS.

Irish Office—8, Dawson-street.

Patron.

HER MAJESTY THE QUEEN.

President.

THE LORD ARCHBISHOP OF CANTERBURY.

This Society was incorporated by Charter, granted by King William the Third, 16th June, 1701, "for the receiving, managing, and disposing of such funds as might be contributed (1) for the religious instruction of His Majesty's subjects beyond the seas; (2) for the maintenance of Clergymen in the Plantations, Colonies, and Factories of Great Britain; and (3) for the Propagation of the Gospel in those parts."

It has now been engaged for more than 160 years in endeavouring to plant the Church of Christ among our countrymen abroad, and among the heathen. Its efforts began in North America (1701), and have extended gradually to the West Indies (1710); Australia (1795); India (1818); South Africa (1820); New Zealand (1839); Ceylon (1840); Borneo (1849); British Columbia (1858); Hawaii (1861); Madagascar (1863); China (1864); as well as to the Continent of Europe.

The Society's operations have all along been guided by those persons whom God has raised up to be the spiritual governors of the Church of England. Since 1701, its President's Chair has been occupied by the successive Archbishops of Canterbury; and all the Bishops of the United Church of England and Ireland are Vice-Presidents.

The greatest care and impartiality are exercised in selecting the Society's agents. Missionaries, before they receive their appointment from the Society, must be approved and recommended by the Board of Examiners, consisting of Five experienced Clergymen, who are nominated annually by the Archbishops of Canterbury and York, and the Bishop of London.

The total number of Ordained Missionaries maintained in whole or in part by the Society is 501; the number of Students, Catechists, Schoolmasters, and others above 700. The Society's income in 1866 was £91,186, of which £3,793 was contributed from Ireland.

Full information of the proceedings of the Missionaries is published in the Annual Report, Quarterly Papers, Mission Field, and Gospel Missionary, which may be procured at the Society's Office, 8, Dawson-street, Dublin, where Contributions will be thankfully received, and communications addressed to the Secretary, the Rev. A. Dawson, will meet with immediate attention.

A Deputation from the Society will visit each Diocese in the course of the year, for the purpose of delivering Missionary Lectures. The following Clergymen have undertaken to act as Secretaries, and make arrangements for Sermons and Meetings:—

Irish Clergy Sons' Education Society.

FOUNDED 6TH DECEMBER, 1854.

Formed for the purpose of assisting in the education of the Orphans of the Irish Clergy, and of the Sons of those Clergymen whose incomes do not enable them fully to attain that object.

Committee :

The Provost, T.C.D.	Rev. C. S. Stanford, D.D.	Rev. H. Stewart
Ven. Archdeacon of Gland- lagh	Rev. R. Sadleir, D.D.	Rev. John Fawcett
Ven. Archdeacon of Kildare	Rev. H. H. Dickenson, D.D.	J. F. Elrington, Esq., LL.D.

	Rev. Robert Staveley, B.D.	Robert Wybrants, Esq.

The system adopted by the Society is as follows:—The most pressing cases on the application list are selected by the Committee to the number of at least twice as many as there are vacancies to fill. Out of these the Subscribers elect by voting papers; a donor of Ten Shillings having, under the recent change of rules of July, 1866, the privilege of one vote for a year from the time of payment; a donor of £5 becoming a life member, with one vote for life; and a collector of £2 10s., of one vote for a year from the remittance of the collection, and so on in all cases in proportion. Elections are held half yearly, or at special times appointed by the Committee, should the state of the funds permit. During 1866, three elections were held, and nine pupils admitted. There are at present 19 pupils receiving the benefits of a first class education at the following schools.—Dungannon, Armagh, Kingstown, Tipperary, Kilkenny, Ennis, Drogheda, Tuam, Killiney, Academic Institute (Harcourt-street), and Londonderry.

The Clergy are earnestly entreated to give a wider and more liberal support to this most valuable Society, as it is useless to expect the Laity to contribute to any considerable extent, when the Clergy do not support as they ought an essentially Clerical Society. The Committee, however, thankfully acknowledge a great improvement in the contributions of the year 1866; but while so many of the poorer Clergy are in a state which makes it impossible for them to supply education for their children, it is manifest that the Society needs a far more extensive measure of support than it has ever received.

The Clergy of the Church of Ireland are earnestly requested to aid this Society in any or all of the following ways :—

Firstly—An annual Appeal on its behalf, in their respective Churches.

Secondly—The establishment of an Auxiliary in their respective parishes; the circulation of Reports and Collecting Cards, and advocacy of the claims of the Society in their social intercourse among their people.

Thirdly—An Annual Subscription, according to their ability.

OBJECT OF THE SOCIETY.—The object of this Society is not, as has been sometimes supposed, to augment the incomes of the needy clergy, but to provide for the Spiritual wants of the population generally in those places where, but for the aid of this Society, no such provision could be made. This it does by making grants for the maintenance of additional curates in districts which must otherwise continue destitute of the ministrations of religion.

Contributions will be received by the Rev. R. P. Graves, Secretary, at the Office of the Society, 45, Molesworth-street, Dublin, by Messrs. La Touche and Co., Castle-street, Dublin; by any member of the Committee.

Any friend of the Society wishing to collect, will be supplied with Cards, Reports, &c., on application to the Secretary.

Messrs. Rivingtons, 3, Waterloo-place.

The objects of the Society are (1) to make known abroad the principles and character of the Church of England and Ireland ; (2) to assist foreign Churches and communities to reform themselves after the example of the Church of England and Ireland ; (3) to exhibit to foreigners already driven into infidelity a Christianity which they may still embrace.

The means which it adopts are the publication of books and tracts in foreign languages, and the employment of Resident Agents, Travelling Agents, Booksellers, and Depôt-keepers, to disseminate books and information.

The countries in which its operations are at present chiefly carried on are Italy, Scandinavia, and France. In Italy it maintains six agents.

The Thirteenth Year's Report is now ready, and will be forwarded on application, together with Lists of the Society's Publications in Latin, French, Italian, Spanish, Portuguese, German, Danish, Modern Greek, Russian, and Armenian.

Its income in the year 1866 was £1285. The Secretaries invite a much larger support, in order that they may carry out the objects of the Society far more extensively.

St. Augustine's College, Canterbury.

Visitor—THE ARCHBISHOP OF CANTERBURY.

Warden—THE REV. HENRY BAILEY, B.D.

St. Augustine's College was established in 1848, by the free contributions of members of the Church, and incorporated by Royal Charter.

The object of the College is "to provide an education to qualify young men for the service of the Church in the distant dependencies of the British Empire, with such strict regard to economy and frugality of habits, as may fit them for the special duties to be discharged, the difficulties to be encountered, and the hardships to be endured."

The appointment of all the authorities of St. Augustine's College rests with the Archbishops of Canterbury and York, and the Bishop of London for the time being, as the prelates more immediately connected with the Colonies. The students may be of any nation and rank in life. It has been found desirable from experience to fix the age of admission at twenty years, or not much less, except in special cases. Every candidate after his arrival in College, is for a (variable) time on probation before his formal "admission as a student." Such only can be received as give good signs of fitness in every way for missionary life. The "previous examination" required by the statute takes place after probation, and is in Cicero's De Senectute, St. Mark's Gospel in Greek, the common rules of Arithmetic, the first book of Euclid, Scripture History and Doctrine, the Church Catechism and its Scripture proofs.

The annual collegiate charge for the education and maintenance of each student is £35. This includes rooms, furniture, attendance of college servants, and washing. It does not include vacations, which are limited to three months in the year, nor travelling and personal expenses. The ordinary course of instruction lasts three years.

More than 140 young men have been educated in the College, and sent forth as Missionaries or Colonial Clergymen.

Missionary Studentships' Fund.

With a view of augmenting the number of candidates from Ireland for missionary work abroad, the Dublin Committee of the Society for the Propagation of the Gospel have opened a Special Fund for establishing Missionary Studentships, for the purpose of maintaining wholly or in part such as need assistance during their residence at St. Augustine's.

It is proposed to found at least three Studentships of the value of £35 a year each so as to enable three Irish Students to obtain a free education at the College. It is also desirable to raise an additional sum of £15 a year, for the purpose of making grants in special cases towards the maintenance and preparatory instruction of youths, not under seventeen years of age, who give singular promise of fitness for Missionary work.

An annual examination will be held in Dublin, in the books required for entrance at St. Augustine's, for the purpose of electing Missionary Students, and also an examination to elect Missionary Pupils.

Two such Missionary Studentships have been established, and the Committee now earnestly appeal for subscriptions for three years of 5s., 10s., or £1, to enable them to send a third Irish student to the College next year.

Subscriptions will be acknowledged, and fuller information supplied by the Rev. A. Dawson, 8, Dawson-street, Dublin.

AN APPEAL OF LORD PLUNKET,
THE LATE BISHOP OF TUAM, IN BEHALF OF THE West Connaught Church Endowment Society.
1866.

The Object of the Society.

The BISHOP OF TUAM earnestly appeals to the Christian Public in behalf of the West Connaught Church Endowment Society, the object of which is to give solidity and permanence to the good work, which through God's blessing, has of late years been accomplished by our Church in the Western Districts of Connaught.

The Emergency which led to the Formation of the Society.

The following were the circumstances which made it necessary for the Bishop of Tuam to establish this Society in the year 1859:—During the preceding 25 years, owing to the great increase in the number of Church-congregations in West Connaught, the number of Clergymen officiating in the District had increased from 11 to 35. For 19 of these 35 Clergymen the Church revenues of the District provided an average net-Income of about £150 per annum each. The remaining 16 Clergymen (who were in charge of 25 Congregations) depended wholly for their support on the precarious funds of societies which at any moment were liable to the necessity of withdrawing their aid. In some cases societies had been obliged to withdraw their aid, Clergymen had been removed, and Congregations had been dispersed.

The Work which the Society has already accomplished.

Since the establishment of this Society seven* Districts (containing in all 12 Congregations) have been parochialized, and endowed with £75 per annum each. In the case of two of these Districts the Ecclesiastical Commissioners for Ireland (who have power to augment, but not to endow) have increased the endowment provided by this Society from £75 to £100 per annum; and it is expected that they will grant a similar augmentation in the case of each of the remaining Districts.

The Work which the Society has still to do.

There are still 9† important Districts in West Connaught, for which an Endowment is urgently required. The sum required for each Endowment is £2,500.

West Connaught as it was thirty Years ago. and as it is now.

As it was 30 years ago.				As it is now.
Congregations	13	Congregations	57
Churches	7	Churches	30

Thus it appears that in the district of West Connaught there has been an increase, within the last 30 years, of 44 Congregations and 23 Churches. Within the same period, notwithstanding the drain of emigration, the Church population has been increased by no less than 2,326 souls.

Subscriptions and Donations for the West Connaught Church Endowment Society will be received at the Bank of Ireland, Dublin; or by the Hon. & Rev. W. C. PLUNKET, Hon. Secretary, 8, Dawson-street, Dublin.

* Since the issue of the above Appeal two more Districts have been endowed, making the number of Endowed Districts nine—November, 1867.

† Now only seven—November, 1867.

In the year 1861 the following figures represented the Irish-speaking element in the several counties in which the Irish Society's work was being carried on:—

Speaking Irish only.

Speaking English and Irish.

155,164

694,511

Total Irish speaking population, 849,675

From the census, from which the above numbers are taken it was seen that, during the ten years intervening between 1851 and 1861, this Irish element in the population decreased 4·2 per cent., the percentage being

In 1851 23·3

Supposing, therefore, the rate of decrease for the past six years to have been the same as that of the previous ten years, we would have a further decrease of 2·5 per cent. to record, leaving 16·6 per cent. of the whole population Irish speakers. Supposing further, this rate of decrease to have spread itself equably over the Irish-speaking districts, and remembering that in the year 1861, according to the above returns, there were 849,675 persons, or 14·6 per cent. of the total population returned as forming an Irish-speaking element in those counties in which the elementary work of the Society was chiefly carried on, we would still have 12·1 per cent., or 701,675 persons to represent the Irish element therein.

The friends of Scriptural education and religious instruction are left to draw their own conclusions from the facts here laid before them, being only reminded that those of the Roman Catholic population of Ireland, who are exclusively or in part Irish speakers, are in consequence thereof farther removed from the opportunities of becoming acquainted with the truths of God's Word, than their co-religionists, who exclusively speak the English language,—the former, indeed, entirely, and the latter, nearly so,—unless they are supplied with the Irish Bible. And who is to do this?

Let all who, as being Protestants, are pledged to advance the cause of truth, come forward. and by means of the Irish Society, which has now stood the test of close upon fifty years' hard working and hard fighting, give to every Irish-speaking inhabitant of the land what is their due—nay, their birthright,—the opportunity, the power of reading in their own language the story of God's everlasting love as manifested in Jesus Christ, His only begotten, well-beloved Son, and our Saviour.

This Society was formed on the 15th of Feb., 1809. It seeks to make known Christ and His Salvation to the scattered members of the House of Israel, and thus to gather from amongst them "the remnant according to the election of grace."

ITS FIELD OF LABOUR

is, practically, the world. There are about from eight to ten millions of Jews at present existing amongst the nations of the earth. The Society has its stations in England, Germany, France, Sweden, Holland, Italy, Greece, Turkey, The Principalities, Asia Minor, North Africa, and Jerusalem.

THE MEANS USED

to accomplish the end the Society has in view are putting into the hands of the Jews the Old and New Testament Scriptures. In 1809 a Hebrew Bible cost some guineas; now a copy can be procured for less than two shillings. Since 1820, 107,863 Latin copies, together with 274,426 parts of the Old Testament have been circulated, and upwards of 80,000 copies of the Hebrew New Testament. The Liturgy of the Church of England has also been translated into Hebrew and 12,763 copies distributed, and upwards of two millions of books and tracts have been given to Israelites in all parts of the world.

THE CIRCULATION OF THE WORD OF GOD.

MISSION AGENCY.

The Society employs 126 agents, sixty-two of whom are believing Israelites. 100 Hebrew boys and girls are maintained, clothed, and educated in the Faith of Christ at the schools in Palestine Place, London; 749 children have already had the benefit of this Institution; between 500 and 600 children attend the Society's fourteen schools in the Duchy of Posen; and upwards of 1,500 Jewish children are receiving daily instruction in the schools of the Society.

RESULTS.

There are 2,000 Christian Israelites in London; about 1,000 more in other parts of England; 2,000 in Berlin; and about 5,000 in Prussia. The Moniteur Newspaper, as quoted by the Times, admitted that the Society for Promoting Christianity amongst the Jews had made since the commencement of the present century some 20,000 proselytes. It is estimated that there are eleven ministers of different denominations in London and upwards of 100 clergymen of the Church of England who are of Israelitish descent. Thousands of Jews are secretly convinced of the truth of Christianity, and but for the bitter persecution to which they would be exposed, would be openly baptised.

Contributions will be thankfully received at 17, UPPER SACKVILLE STREET, DUBLIN, by the SECRETARIES, who will be glad to give any further information respecting the proceedings of the Society, and to transmit its recent publications to any one who may be willing to promote its object.

THE
PROTESTANT ORPHAN REFUGE
SOCIETY,

For the Education and Support of the Destitute Orphans of Mixed Marriages.

FOUNDED 1830.

OFFICE—39, MOLESWORTH STREET, DUBLIN.

The object of the Protestant Orphan Refuge Society is to preserve the Protestantism of the destitute Orphans of Mixed Marriages. It is the only Society in this city, avowedly and exclusively, for such children. While Roman Catholic "Orphanages," which shelter the offspring of such marriages, have long existed, it is only within the last few years that Protestants have turned their attention to the duty and importance of rescuing these poor children from the dangers to which they are so peculiarly exposed. Although this Society was formed in the year 1830, it failed to attract much public attention till within the last ten or eleven years, during which period it has been making a decided and steady progress, as will appear from the following statement:—

The number of Orphans at the close of the year 1851 was 36
1863 ... 190
At present ... 205

The Income for the year ending
31st December, 1851, was £178 16 2
1863 ... 1533 16 8
1865 ... 1711 15 4

The Orphans adopted by this Society are domesticated in respectable Protestant families throughout the country, under the care of the Clergymen of the respective parishes, and when fit, are apprenticed to Protestant Masters and Mistresses. Orphans are eligible from all parts of the kingdom, where no local provision can be made for their protection.

The Committee wishing to conduct the operations of the Society in as economical a manner as possible, endeavour to carry them on, principally by their own gratuitous exertions, without the aid of a Clerical Deputation Secretary, which feature in the management of the Society, the Committee think, peculiarly recommends it to the support of a Christian public.

Never were the Committee in greater need of the kind assistance of their friends. They have now 205 Orphans under their care. The greatest difficulty is experienced by them in providing for the usual half-yearly payment of the Nurses' Wages, on the 30th of June and 31st of December in each year. And the cases continually presenting themselves for admission are most urgent and distressing.

The income of the Society is almost entirely dependent on voluntary Contributions, therefore the amount sent in by its friends constitute its principal source of income.

The Committee earnestly solicit the kind co-operation of their Clerical brethren throughout Ireland in this good work, and will feel deeply grateful by their kindly assisting them in their struggling endeavours to support the 205 poor Protestant Orphans at present under their care; either by allowing the claims of the Society to be advocated from their pulpits, or by permitting Auxiliaries to be formed, and Collecting Cards to be distributed in their parishes.

Donations and Subscriptions will be thankfully received by any Member of the Committee, or by the Assistant Secretary, at the Office, 39, Molesworth-street, Dublin.

Organizing Secretary for England—C. M. TYNDALL, Esq., M.A.

The objects of the Church Institution are—to COMBINE Churchmen generally (without reference to politics) in the maintenance and support of the Established Church, and its rights and privileges in relation to the State, particularly as regards all questions affecting its well being likely to become the subjects of legislative action; and, generally, to encourage the co-operation of both clergy and laity in their several districts for the promotion of measures conducive to its welfare. Together, they constitute the Church; and while the clergy minister in spiritual things, the laity can bring to its assistance their means and their zeal, their habits of business, and their familiarity with secular affairs—in fact, minister in temporal matters. The organized attempts also that have so unceasingly been made for years past to injure, or destroy the Church (with which our highest interests are bound up), and to appropriate the revenues—which the piety of our ancestors set aside for the worship of God, and the promotion of "true religion and virtue in this land," and the Church holds in trust, to secular purposes—render some counter organization necessary.

The organization is carried out by the formation of Ruridecanal (found peculiarly suitable—see Archbishop of Canterbury's speech at annual meeting) or other associations. Paper VII. will be furnished to all desiring further particulars.

Subscriptions—Clergy, at least, 5s. per annum; Laity, according to good will.

Post Office orders payable to WYNDHAM HOLGATE, Esq., 25, Parliament-street, S.W.

THIS INSTITUTION, so much needed, in consequence of the inadequate maintenance of very many of the working Clergy of the United Church in Ireland, contains Thirty-six young persons, several of them Orphans, who are fed, clothed, and educated at charges varying according to the circumstances of their parents, but in every instance much below the actual cost.

The instruction provided for them embraces French, German, Music, and Drawing, in addition to the ordinary branches of English, the chief object aimed at being to qualify them to become efficient Governesses.

The Institution mainly depends on Christian benevolence. Additional contributions are much needed, especially to meet liabilities unavoidably incurred in the completing and furnishing of the new house recently erected in Leeson-Park, and now occupied by the School.

Abide among us with thy Grace
Abide with me: fast falls the even-tide.

Above the clear blue sky.
Alas! what hourly dangers rise.
Almighty God, thy Word is cast
Alleluia! heaven rejoices.
All hail the power of Jesus' name.
All glory, laud, and honour.
All people that on earth do dwell.
A sure stronghold our God is He.
Angels from the realms of glory.
Another day is past and gone.
Another year has fled.
Around the throne of God a band.
As through the wilderness we stray.
As when the Hebrew prophet raised.
Awake, and sing the song.
Awake my soul, and with the sun.
Awake our souls, away our fears.

Before Jehovah's awful throne.
Blessed be thy name.
Blow ye the trumpet, blow.
Bread of the world in mercy broken.
Brethren, let us join to bless.
Brief life is here our portion.
Brightest and best of the sons of the morning.
By Angel in heaven.

Captain of Israel's host and guide.
Christ is our corner stone.
Christ is made the sure foundation.
Christ, the Lord, is risen to-day.
Christ whose glory fills the skies.
Christians awake salute the happy morn.
Come let us join our cheerful songs.
Come gracious Spirit, source of love.
Come, Holy Ghost, our souls inspire.
Come, Holy Ghost, Creator come.

Come, Holy Spirit, heavenly dove.
Come, Holy Spirit, calm our minds.
Come, Holy Spirit, come.
Come, thou long-expected Jesus.
Come, thou fount of ev'ry blessing.
Come ye that love the Lord.
Come, ye thankful people, come.
Come, ye sinners poor and wretched.
Creator, Spirit, by whose aid.

Dear refuge of the weary soul.
Does the Gospel word proclaim.
Dread Jehovah, God of Nations.

Ere another evening close.
Eternal Father, strong to save.
Eternal Sun of righteousness.
Eternal Spirit, source of truth.

Father, again in Jesus' name we meet.
Father of heaven, whose love profound.
Father of mercies in thy word.
Father of mercies, let our songs.
Father, to thee our souls we lift.
Father, whate'er of earthly bliss.
Far from my heavenly home.
Far from these narrow scene of night.
Forgive, O Lord, our wandering past.
For thee, O dear, dear country.
For thy dear saints, O Lord.
For thy mercy and thy grace.
For mercies countless as the sands.
From all that dwell below the skies.
From Greenland's icy mountains.
Give God the Father praise.
Glorious things of Thee are spoken.
Glory be to God on high.
Glory be to thee, O Lord.
Glory to Thee, my God this night.
Glory to God on high.
Glory, glory everlasting:
Glory, honour, praise, and power.

Go to dark Gethsemane.
God moves in a mysterious way.
God of love, before Thee now.
God of our hope, to Thee we bow.
God of our life, to Thee we call.
God reveals his presence.
God the Father, be thou near.
Good is the Lord, our heavenly King.
Grace! 'tis a charming sound.
Gracious Father, hear our prayer.
Gracious Spirit, love divine.
Great God, in heaven and earth supreme.
Great God, the Guardian of our youth.
Great God, what do I see and hear.
Great Shepherd of thy people, hear.
Guide us, O Thou great Jehovah.

Hail, Thou once despised Jesus.
Hail to the Lord's anointed.
Hark! a thrilling voice is sounding.
Hark! my soul, it is the Lord.
Hark, the voice of love and mercy.
Hark, eternal praise ascending.
Hark, ten thousand voices sounding.
Hark, the glad sound, the Saviour comes.
Hark, the herald angels sing.
Hark! the song of jubilee.
Hark, what mean those holy voices.
Head of the Church triumphant
Holy, holy, holy, Lord God of hosts.
Holy, holy, holy, Lord God Almighty.
Holy Lord, who Thee receive.
Hosanna to the Living Lord.
How beauteous are their feet.
How bright those glorious spirits shine.
How bright appears the morning star.
How precious is the book divine.
How sweet the name of Jesus sounds

INDEX TO HYMNS—continued.

I lay my sins on Jesus.
Immortal honour, endless fame.
Incarnate Word, who woult to dwell.
In the hour of trial.
In token that thou shalt not fear.
In trouble and in grief, O God.
It is finished, shall we raise.
"It is finished," sinners hear it.
I will arise, and go to my father.

Jerusalem the golden.
Jerusalem, Jerusalem.
Jerusalem, my happy home.
Jesus, and shall it ever be.
Jesus Christ is risen to-day.
Jesus lives! no longer now.
Jesus, my Lord, my God, my All.
Jesus, our strength and hope.
Jesus, refuge of my soul.
Jesus shall reign where'er the sun.
Jesus, Thou sovereign Lord of all.
Jesus, thou joy of loving hearts.
Jesus our Lord is King.
Jesus, thy spotless righteousness.
Jesus, we lift our souls to thee.
Jesus, where'er thy people meet.
Just as I am—without one plea.
Lamb of God, whose dying love.
Lamb without spot, to thee we kneel.
Lead us heavenly Father.
Let children to their God draw near.
Let me be with thee where thou art.
Let us love, and sing, and wonder.
Life nor death shall us dis sever.
Light of them that sit in darkness.
Light of those whose dreary dwellings.
Lo, he comes with clouds descending.
Lord, a Saviour's love displaying.
Lord, as to thy dear cross we flee.
Lord, for thy tender mercies' sake.
Lord, pour thy Spirit from on high.
Lord, dismiss us with thy blessing.
Lord, I beseech thee, on this day.
Lord, in this thy mercy's day.
Lord, in thy name thy servants plead.
Lord, now we part in that blest name.
Lord of all power and might.
Lord of Hosts to Thee we raise.
Lord of mercy and of might.
Lord of the Church, we humbly pray.
Lord of thy mercy, hear our cry.
Lord of the Sabbath, hear us pray.
Lord, shall thy children come to Thee.
Lord, that madest earth and heaven.
Lord, thy Word abideth.
Lord Jesus, who our souls to save.
Lord, of our life, and God of our salvation.
Lord, when we bend before thy throne.
Love divine, all love excelling.

May the grace of Christ our Saviour.
My blessed Saviour is thy love.
My God and is thy table spread.
My God, my God, look upon me.
My God, my Father, while I stray.

Nearer, my God, to thee.
New every morning is the love.
Not all the blood of beasts.
Now begin the heavenly theme.
Now let the Christian's hope abound.
Now may He who from the dead.
Now to him who loved us, gave us.
Now thank we all our God.

O Christ, who art the light and day.
O come, and mourn with me awhile.
O come, all ye faithful.
O could we always pray.
O for a closer walk with God.
O for a heart to praise my God.
O for a thousand tongues to sing.
O God of Bethel, by whose hand.
O God of good, th' unfathomed sea.
O God of love, O King of Peace.
O God, our help in ages past.
O God that madest earth and sky.
O help us, Lord, each hour of need.
O Jesus, Lord of light and grace.
O Jesus, light of all below.
O Lord, our hope, our heart's desire.
O Lord, our Maker, ever near.
O Lord, thou knowest all the snares.
O Lord, my God, hear Thou the prayer.
O Lord, turn not thy face from us.
O Lord, who hast prepared a place.
O Thou, who by a star didst guide.
O Thou, whose car our footsteps guide.
O Thou, whose glory and whose grace.
O Thou from whom all goodness flows.
O Saviour, bless us e'er we go.
O Saviour, is thy promise fled.
O Saviour, when this holy morn.
O Worship the King.
Of the Father's love begotten.
Oft in danger, oft in woe.
Oh! when shall rest be found.
On Jordan's bank, the Baptist's cry.
On what has now been sown.
One there is above all others.
Our blest Redeemer e'er He breathed.

Plunged in a gulf of dark despair.
Pour down thy Spirit, gracious Lord.
Praise, my soul, the King of Heaven.
Praise the Lord, ye heavens adore Him.
Praise the name of God most high.
Praise the Lord through every nation.
Praise God from whom all blessings flow.
Praise, O praise our God and King.

Redeemer, now thy work is done.
Rejoice, the Lord is King.
Rejoice to-day with one accord.
Rock of ages, cleft for me.
Round Bethlehem, the blessed.

Salvation, O the joyful sound.
Saviour, abide with us.
Saviour, breathe an evening blessing.
Saviour, like a shepherd lead us.
Saviour, send a blessing to us.
Saviour, source of every blessing.
Saviour, sprinkle many nations.
Saviour, through the desert, lead us.
Saviour, when in dust to Thee.
See the Good Shepherd, Jesus stands.
Soldiers of Christ arise.
Spirit Divine, attend our prayers.
Spirit of power and truth and love.
Spirit of Truth, on this thy day.
Sun of my soul, thou Saviour dear.
Sweet is the work, O God our King.
Sweet the moments, rich in blessing.

That day of wrath, the dreadful day.
The day is past: and over.

The gentle Saviour calls.
The God of Abraham praise.
The happy morn is come.
The Lord my pasture shall prepare.
The Lord of earth and sky.
The Lord of Might from Sinai's brow.
The Lord who once our weakness knew.
The saints on earth and those above.
The Son of God goes forth to war.
The strain upraise of joy and praise.
The people that in darkness sat.
The year is gone beyond recall.
There will I love, my strength, my Tower.
There is a land of pure delight.
There is an eye that never sleeps.
There is a fountain filled with blood.
There is a blessed home.
This day the light of heavenly birth.
This is the day the Lord has made.
This stone to Thee in faith we lay.
Thou art gone up before us, Lord.
Thou art gone up on high.
Thou art the way, to Thee alone.
Thou friend of sinners, who hast bought.
Thou whose Almighty Word.
Thou God of Power and God of Love.
Thou God, all glory, honour, power.
Thou to whom all power is given.
Thou who art the Orphans' father.
Thou wondrous love of God.
Though troubles assail, and dangers affright.
Through all the dangers of the night.
Through Him who all our sickness felt.
Through, the day thy love hath spared us.
To Father, Son and Holy Ghost.
To God the Father, Son.
To God the only wise.
To our Redeemer's glorious name.
To the Eternal King.

We saw Thee not when Thou didst tread.
When all thy mercies, O my God.
When along life's thorny road.
When His salvation bringing.
When I can read my title clear.
When I survey the wondrous cross.
When Jesus left the throne of God.
When shades of night around us close
Whence those sounds symphonious.
While Shepherds watched their flocks, by night.
While I see, protecting power.
While with ceaseless course the sun.
Wilt thou not my Shepherd true.
With joy may I behold the day.
With joy we contemplate the grace.
Who are these like stars appearing.
Why do we mourn departing friends.
Why those fears? behold 'tis Jesus.

Ye bright angelic host who stand.
Ye nations exult, salvation is nigh.
Ye servants of a martyr'd Lord.
Yes, Lord, we must rememb'r Thee
Yes, we hope the day is nigh.

Zion's King shall reign victorious

THE Course of Study pursued in this School embraces the usual branches of preparation, either for Mercantile pursuits, or for Entrance at any of the Universities.

Its situation (immediately outside the town of Ballymena, and within an hour and a half of Belfast by rail) is a remarkably healthy one, and the attention paid to the manners, comforts, and principles, as well as to the instruction, secular and religious, of the Resident Pupils, and their general treatment, are such as to secure them no inconsiderable amount of the advantages usually associated with home education.

For Terms, &c., apply to the Principal.

To the Hierarchy and Clergy of Ireland, the Royal Dublin Society, the Ordnance Department, the Ballast Board, &c.,

Iron and Brass Founders, Millwrights, and Engineers.

Respectfully beg leave to return their grateful thanks to the Protestant Clergy of Ireland for their liberal patronage, and to assure them that no exertion will be spared on their part to merit a continuance thereof. They beg attention to the annexed Prizes awarded for superior Bell Founding:—

- PRIZE GOLD MEDAL of the Royal Dublin Society.
- PRIZE MEDAL of the Great International Exhibition.
- PRIZE MEDAL of the Royal Agricultural Society.
- PRIZE MEDAL of the Cork Exhibition Committee.

N.B.—No Bells were sent by this firm to the London or Paris Exhibitions.

Attention is also requested to the following flattering Testimonials, selected from many of a similar character.—

“Royal Dublin Society, Kildare-street, 30th Oct 1841.

“DEAR SIR,—I discharge a very agreeable duty in presenting to you the Gold Medal of the Royal Dublin Society, adjudged to you at the Exhibition of Irish Manufactures, for your ring of Eight Joy-Bells, Wrought Iron Fire-proof Safes, and other articles exhibited by you; being persuaded that there is no person whatever better entitled than you are to this honorable distinction, from your long and successful exertions to raise and establish the character of the manufactures of Ireland.—I beg you to believe me, dear Sir your faithful and obedient servant, “EDWARD HARDYMAN, Assist. Sec.

“To Mr. James Sheridan, Dublin.”

“69, Queen-street, Dublin, 6th Nov., 1849.

“MY DEAR SIR,—I feel sincere pleasure in testifying to the masterly manner in which you have added two Virgin Bells to the peal of six previously erected by you in the Tower of St. Paul's Church, Arran-quay; they are completely in accordance with them, a task, I understand, for which there is no precedent—that of splicing a peal by adding two Virgin Bells purely in note, without extra trouble, to correspond exactly in tune with all the others, or without copying from other bells of similar dimensions and mixture. I am sure that any person who has heard the Peal of Eight Bells now completed by you, must acknowledge that they cannot be excelled for their weight in the three kingdoms.

“The able manner in which they have been hung in the Belfry by you has given general satisfaction.—Wishing you, my dear Sir, every success and prosperity in all your undertakings, I remain yours most truly, “WILLIAM YORRE, V.G. and P.P.

“To Mr. James Sheridan, Dublin.”

“Ballast Office, 18th Oct., 1849.

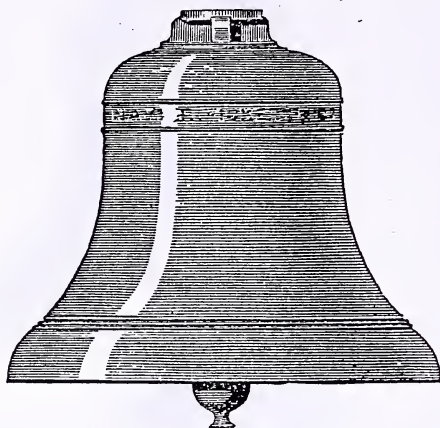

“SIR,—In reply to your letter requesting to be favoured by the opinion of the Board with respect to the Signal Bells lately supplied from your establishment—

“I am directed to acquaint you that these Bells, some of them weighing upwards of 45 cwt., have been found to be sound in every respect, and their tone full and clear. The Board are much pleased with them, and consider them highly creditable to your establishment.—I am, Sir, your obedient servant, “H. VEREKER, Sec.

IRISH BELL FOUNDRY AND COPPER WORKS, 14, THOMAS-STREET, DUBLIN.

JOHN MURPHY

Had the honour of supplying about forty Bishops and some hundreds of the Clergy all over the civilized world, of all religious persuasions.

His great Bell at the London Exhibition was selected by Mr. Dent, her Majesty's Clock Maker, to strike the hours of his great clock in the Grand Hall during the Exhibition. It was afterwards purchased by the Great Northern Railway Company of England, for their terminus clock at King's Cross, London.

J. M. begs leave to say that any order received by him always has his own practical attention, both in the moulding and the amalgam of the metals, as he is the only practical employer in the Bell Founding Trade in Ireland.

He has now ready for inspection a Peal of eight Joy Bells, weighing over 5 tons weight, in the key of D; he has restored the Joy Bells of St. Patrick's Cathedral, for Sir Benjamin Lee Guinness, Bart., M.P., by casting three new Bells in place of defective ones, what is technically termed Splicing a Peal; he did the same in Christ Church Cathedral, and also in Limerick Cathedral, all to their proper musical notes. He had the honour of receiving the following letter from the late Bishop of Kildare:—

Glasnevin House, near Dublin, Dec. 20th, 1845.

"SIR,—The Dean and Chapter of Christ Church Cathedral, in this city, were not aware, when they employed you at different times to re-cast two of their Church Bells, and to adapt them to the tones of Eight in the Diatonic Scale, that such an attempt had ever before been made in Ireland. I am happy to say that in both cases you have thoroughly succeeded; and I remain, your obedient servant,

"CHARLES KILDARE,

"Dean of the Cathedral, Christ Church, Dublin.

"Mr. John Murphy, Bell Founder."

SCOTTISH WIDOWS' FUND

Life Assurance Society.

FOUNDED A.D. 1815.

The Leading Feature

of this Old Established and well-tried Society is its MUTUAL PRINCIPLE, which secures the Division of the whole Profits among the Policyholders. This single circumstance retains for DISTRIBUTION among the POLICYHOLDERS LARGE SUMS OF MONEY which under the Proprietary System would be lost to them.

The Largest Division of Profits ever made by the Society was that declared at the Annual Meeting of Members held on 24th May last. The profit realised during the seven years ending 31st December, 1866, amounted to no less than £834,183 10s. 1d., which sum was divided among the Policyholders in the manner fully explained in the Report read at the Meeting, copies of which may be had, free of charge, on application.

The New Business of 1866 much exceeded that of any year in the past history of the Society, Policies having been issued during the year covering the following amounts:—

New Sums Assured	£1,236,000
New Annual Premiums	40,900

The above figures do not include any business reassured with other Offices, and is therefore not subject to the usual abatements on that account.

Resources of the Society.

Annual Revenue	£600,000
Invested Funds	4,420,000

Persons effecting Assurances now will do so at a time when the Society has acquired a select Business of the highest class, the growth of upwards of Fifty Years of uninterrupted prosperity, and has reached an annually increasing rate of progress, which has never been exceeded in the history of Life Assurance in this country. Moreover, although the Society never took over the Funds of any other Office by amalgamation, its Life Assurance Fund is larger than that of any similar Institution. Its Financial Power secures for the Society the best and most remunerative Investments which the country affords. The natural effect of all these circumstances must be the realization of a rate of profit for the benefit of the Assured unattainable by Offices less favourably circumstanced.

Amongst the many new features of this Office the following may be noticed:—
This is the first Mutual Life Office established in Ireland.
Parties can insure cheaper in this Society than almost any other: indeed, in many cases a Policy for £1,050 to £1,250 could be issued for the same premium as charged by other offices for £1,000.
Parties insured with this Society know exactly the surrender value of their Policies from year to year without having recourse to the Office.
Non-forfeiture of premiums paid. See Prospectus for other information, which, with proposal forms, &c., can be obtained on application to any of the above Offices.

SECURITY COMBINED WITH OTHER ADVANTAGES.

The Invested Funds of the Company exceed	£1,021,000
The Annual Income is upwards of	£148,000
The Sum Assured amounts to	£3,629,000
The Bonuses added to the Policies exceed	£567,000

At the last quinquennial investigation of the Company's affairs, in 1865, it was ascertained that, for each £100 of its liability to the Assured, the Company had £122 10s. of cash in hand, and the further sum of £14 10s. of subscribed and unpaid Capital, so that the total security afforded to the Assured amounted to £137 for each £100 of liability, a security that is equalled by few offices.

POLICIES PAYABLE DURING LIFETIME OF THE ASSURED.

By a new mode of applying the Bonuses, the sum in the Policy may become payable to the Assured himself, without his paying any increase on the "With Profit" rate of Premium. (For particulars, see Special Circular.)

WHOLE-WORLD POLICIES.

Without payment of any extra Premiums.

These Policies will be issued to all persons who, at the time of effecting the Assurance, have no intention or prospect of proceeding beyond the limits of Europe. (For further particulars, see Prospectus.)

The Sums Paid, to the representatives of deceased Members, exceed £1,751,000; and the Company has not, in a single instance, been engaged in litigation with respect to the payment of the claims.

The Profits are divided quinquennially to Irish and English policy holders alike, Five-Sixths being allotted to the Assured, and the remaining One-sixth added to the Guarantee Fund, and permanently reserved for the security of the Assured.

The Claims are paid to the Legal Representatives, in England, Ireland, or Scotland, within three months after proof of death; or earlier, if wished, under discount.

The Rates of Premium will be found very advantageous, especially to Young Assurers.
